4 memorandum of law and omnibus response (the “Memorandum”) in support of confirmation of the 5 Debtors’ and Shareholder Proponents’ Joint Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization Dated May 22, 2020
6 [Docket No. 7521] (as it may be amended, modified or supplemented from time to time, and together 7 with any exhibits or schedules thereto, the “Plan”),<sup>1</sup> pursuant to section 1129 of title 11 of the United 8 States Code (the “Bankruptcy Code”), and in reply to the various objections submitted in opposition 9 to the Plan, and respectfully represent as follows:

10 PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

11 The Debtors filed these Chapter 11 Cases with the principal goal of achieving a fair, equitable, 12 and expeditious resolution of billions of dollars in liabilities arising from the 2017 and 2018 Northern 13 California fires (including Tubbs) and the 2015 Butte Fire. Today, the Plan Proponents are now before 14 the Court requesting confirmation of the Plan, which is the culmination of more than sixteen months of 15 arm’s length and good faith negotiations by and among the Debtors, the Shareholder Proponents, the 16 Debtors’ key stakeholders, regulators, the Governor’s Office and many other parties in interest in these 17 Chapter 11 Cases. Perhaps most importantly, the Plan has the overwhelming support of the Fire Victims 18 – having been accepted by more than 85% in number and amount of holders of Fire Victim Claims that 19 submitted valid votes on the Plan. The Plan also has been accepted by all but one of the other classes 20 of impaired creditors and interest holders (together with the Classes of Fire Victim Claims, collectively, 21 the “Voting Classes”). The sole dissenting Class, Class 10A-II (HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims), 22 consists of holders of prepetition securities law claims related to PG&E Corp. common stock, which 23 claims are subordinated to the level of common stock pursuant to the provisions of the Bankruptcy Code.
24 Accordingly, the Plan has received overwhelming support, and the Debtors remain on track to meet the Fire victims have spoken, and they have spoken loudly and resoundingly in favor of the Plan. The time has come to confirm the Plan and enable prompt distributions to holders of Fire Claims notwithstanding the ancillary and misguided objections raised by the Official Committee of Tort Claimants (the “Tort Claimants Committee”) and a vanishingly small minority of other holders of Fire Claims.

1           The Plan Proponents, under the direction of this Court and with the invaluable assistance of 2 former Bankruptcy Judge Newsome, have achieved a remarkable result — a Plan that embodies a 3 comprehensive restructuring of the Debtors that fairly and equitably addresses all Fire Claims and other 4 prepetition claims and equity interests, allows the Debtors to timely access the Go-Forward Wildfire
5 Fund, has the support of the Governor’s Office, complies with AB 1054, maximizes value for all parties 6 in interest, and ensures that the Utility will be positioned to deliver safe and reliable service to its 7 customers.

8           As the Court is aware, the Plan is the result of hard fought and good faith negotiations and a 9 series of settlements between and among the Debtors and a wide array of creditor, shareholder, and 10 governmental and regulatory constituencies. As a result of these negotiations, the Plan Proponents have 11 successfully secured support for confirmation of the Plan from the following constituencies, among 12 others:

- 13           • The Governor’s Office, which has stated that the Plan is compliant with AB 1054;
- 14           • The Ad Hoc Group of Subrogation Claim Holders, consisting of major holders of claims 15 arising from insurance payments made to victims in connection with the wildfires 16 (the “Ad Hoc Subrogation Group”);
- 17           • Several Public Entities in the areas in which the wildfires occurred (the “Public 18 Entities”);
- 19           • The Debtors’ public shareholders;
- 20           • The Ad Hoc Committee of Senior Unsecured Noteholders of Pacific Gas and Electric 21 Company, consisting of major holders of the Utility’s outstanding prepetition funded 22 debt claims (the “Ad Hoc Noteholders Committee”); and
- 23           • As stated above, an overwhelming majority of the holders of Fire Victim Claims who 24 voted to accept the Plan, including the consideration to be transferred to the Fire Victim 25 Trust as provided in the Plan.

26           In addition, the California Public Utilities Commission (the “CPUC”) has issued a proposed 27 decision that would find the Plan, with the commitments and conditions required by the CPUC, complies 28 with AB 1054. The CPUC is expected to vote on the proposed decision on May 28, 2020.

1 As demonstrated below and in the Supporting Declarations (as defined below), the Plan satisfies 2 all of the requirements for confirmation set forth in section 1129 of the Bankruptcy Code and,
3 accordingly, should be confirmed. A proposed order granting such relief (the “Proposed Confirmation 4 Order”) will be filed in advance of the Confirmation Hearing.

5 The remainder of this Memorandum is divided into six sections. Section I sets forth the facts, 6 affidavits, declarations, evidence and background information relevant for confirmation of the Plan.
7 Section II addresses the requirements for confirmation of the Plan under the Bankruptcy Code and 8 demonstrates how the Plan and the Plan Proponents satisfy each of the requirements and achieve the 9 objectives of chapter 11. Section III sets forth the legislative and regulatory requirements applicable to 10 confirmation of the Plan and the Debtors’ satisfaction thereof. Section IV addresses objections to 11 confirmation of the Plan that remain unresolved as of the date hereof. Section V addresses the Debtors’ 12 request for a waiver of the 14-day stay imposed by Rule 3020(e) of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy 13 Procedure (the “Bankruptcy Rules”). Section VI concludes this Memorandum.

18 II. THE PLAN SATISFIES THE REQUIREMENTS OF THE BANKRUPTCY CODE AND 19 SHOULD BE APPROVED

20 A. Section 1129(a)(1): The Plan Complies with the Applicable Provisions of the 21 Bankruptcy Code

22 Under section 1129(a)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code, a plan must comply with the applicable
23 provisions of the Bankruptcy Code. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(1). The legislative history of section 24 1129(a)(1) explains that this provision encompasses the requirements of sections 1122 and 1123 of the 25 Bankruptcy Code governing classification of claims and contents of the plan, respectively.<sup>2</sup>

 (“The legislative history of section 1129(a)(1) explains that this provision encompasses the requirements of Sections 1122 and 1123 of the Bankruptcy Code, which are the substantive provisions most relevant

1                   1. Section 1122: The Plan’s Classification Structure is Proper

2                   Section 1122(a) of the Bankruptcy Code provides that “a plan may place a claim or an interest 3 in a particular class only if such claim or interest is substantially similar to the other claims or interests 4 of such class.” 11 U.S.C. § 1122(a).

5                   The Plan has thirty-four (34) Classes<sup>3</sup> of Claims against and Interests in the Debtors and the 6 Plan’s classification scheme fully complies with section 1122 of the Bankruptcy Code. Claims are 7 “substantially similar” when they share the same priority and are of a similar “kind, species, or 8 character.” See Steelcase Inc. v. Johnston (In re Johnston), 21 F.3d 323, 327-28 (9th Cir. 1994);

10 281 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2015) (finding that all claims in a class were “in the same spot” because they were 11 entitled to receive the same pro rata recovery from the debtor); 7 Collier on Bankruptcy ¶ 1122.03[3] 12 (16th ed. 2020) (“[M]ost courts have looked at the nature of the claim (e.g., senior or subordinated, 13 secured or unsecured), and the relationship of the claim to the property of the debtor.”). The Classes in 14 the Plan easily satisfy this standard, as all Classes consist only of claims or interests of the same priority, 15 and Claims are further grouped together based on their common origin, facts, or theory of liability. See 16 Confirmation Declaration ¶¶ 11, 12.

17                   Beyond the threshold requirement that claims in a class be substantially similar, the Plan 18 Proponents have “broad discretion to classify claims and interests according to the particular facts and 19 circumstances of each case,” discretion which the Plan Proponents have fairly and equitably exercised

3 Thus, within the Plan Proponents’ discretion, claims that are substantially similar may be placed 4 “in different classes if the debtor can show a business or economic justification for doing so,” which can 5 include prior settlements and the Debtors’ differing ongoing relationships with the holders of each Class
6 of Claims. See In re Loop 76, LLC, 465 B.R. at 536 (citing Barakat v. Life Ins. Co. of Va. (In re Barakat),

8 classification of bond creditor claims “made legitimate business and economic sense” where Bankruptcy 9 Court found such claims were given their “own unique legal rights and status” pursuant to global 10 settlements); In re Rexford Props. LLC, 558 B.R. 352, 363 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016) (approving separate 11 classification of trade vendors’ unsecured claims from general unsecured claims “to induce their 12 continued support of the debtor”).

13 Separate Classification of Fire Victim Claims, Subrogation Wildfire Claims, and Public Entities 14 Wildfire Claims is Appropriate. With regard to unsecured Claims against the Debtors, although they 15 share similar priority in recovery against the Debtors, the facts and circumstances of these cases, 16 including the Debtors’ entry into the Subrogation Claims RSA, Tort Claimants RSA, and Public Entities 17 Plan Support Agreements, require and certainly merit separate classification of the Fire Victim Claims, 18 the Subrogation Wildfire Claims, and the Public Entities Wildfire Claims. Although the losses 19 attributable to each of the Classes can be traced back to the Fires, the legal theories of liability that form 20 the bases of the Claims within each Class are distinct, each Class receives distributions via procedures 21 efficiently and equitably tailored to its particular situation, and notably, each Class has accepted different 22 treatment under the Plan pursuant to the respective settlement agreements. For example, the Claims
23 within Class 5A-III and 5B-III (Fire Victim Claims) are all unsecured claims, arise from the same nexus
24 of events (the Fires), are based upon tort or tort-like theories of liability, and are largely unliquidated 25 and contingent. The claims within Classes 5A-II and 5B-II (Subrogation Wildfire Claims) all relate to 26 insurance and subrogation-related liability triggered by the Fires. And the Claims from Classes 5A-I 27 and 5A-II (the Public Entities Wildfire Claims) belong to the municipalities that are home to the Debtors’ 28

1 equipment and customers, have ongoing relationships with the Debtors, and likewise reached a 2 settlement with the Debtors in respect of their Fire Claims. See Confirmation Declaration ¶¶ 15–17.

3 Taken as a whole, the Plan’s classification scheme provides for the best possible balance of the 4 settlement negotiations in these Chapter 11 Cases, efficient and equitable distributions to the holders of 5 various Claims, and the preservation of ongoing relationships with vendors and other business creditors 6 that are important to the Debtors’ ongoing operations. See Confirmation Declaration ¶¶ 11–19.

7 2. Section 1123(a): The Plan’s Content is Appropriate

8 The Plan fully complies with each requirement under section 1123(a) of the Bankruptcy Code, 9 which sets forth applicable requirements that the proponent of a chapter 11 plan must satisfy. See 11 10 U.S.C. § 1123(a).

11 Section 1123(a)(1): The Plan designates Classes of Claims and Interests as required by section 12 1123(a)(1). See Plan, arts. II, III, and IV.

13 Section 1123(a)(2) and (a)(3): The Plan specifies whether each Class of Claims and Interests 14 is impaired or unimpaired under the Plan and the treatment of each such impaired Class, as required by 15 sections 1123(a)(2) and 1123(a)(3), respectively. See Plan, arts. II, III, and IV.<sup>4</sup> As discussed in detail 16 in Section IV below, objections to the designation of certain Claims and Interests as impaired or 17 unimpaired under the Plan are baseless and should be overruled.

18 Section 1123(a)(4): The Plan provides that, except as otherwise agreed to by a holder of a 19 particular Claim or Interest, the treatment of each Claim or Interest in each particular Class is the same 20 as the treatment of each other Claim or Interest in such Class, as required by section 1123(a)(4). See 21 Plan, arts. II, III, and IV.

22 <sup>4</sup> Under the Plan, the 4.25% Senior Notes due August 1, 2023 and the 4.65% Senior Notes due August 23 1, 2028 (the “2023 and 2028 Notes”) will be reinstated and collateralized with a corresponding series of 24 the Debtor’s first mortgage bonds. In connection with such reinstatement and collateralization, the 25 Debtors anticipate (i) replacing the respective restricted CUSIP numbers on the 2023 and 2028 Notes 26 with unrestricted CUSIP numbers on such 2023 and 2028 Notes so that they may be freely sold without 27 restriction by the holders thereof pursuant to Rule 144 of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, after 28 entry of the Confirmation Order and/or (ii) consummating a registered exchange offer of the 2023 and 2028 Notes by filing with the SEC a registration statement on Form S-4 under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, after the Effective Date.

1            Section 1123(a)(5): The Plan and related documents (including the Plan Supplement) provide 2 “adequate means for the plan’s implementation” as required by section 1123(a)(5). 11 U.S.C.
3 § 1123(a)(5). The Plan provides adequate means of implementation of the Plan through, among other 4 things: (i) approximately $47.1 billion of capital to be provided through any combination of (a) new 5 credit facilities, including exit revolving loan facilities, senior term loan facilities and/or bridge loan 6 facilities, (b) new debt securities issued by the Utility (the “New Utility Notes”), (c) new debt securities
7 issued by HoldCo (the “New Holdco Notes” and, together with the New Utility Notes, the “New Debt
8 Securities”), (d) issuance of new PG&E Corp. common stock (“New HoldCo Common Stock”) or 9 equity-linked securities pursuant to one or more public or private offerings and/or the Rights Offering 10 (if implemented), (e) the reinstatement of certain of the Utility’s prepetition debt in accordance with the 11 existing terms of such prepetition debt, and (f) the exchange of certain of the Utility’s prepetition debt 12 for new debt (the capital sources described in the foregoing (a) through (f), collectively, the “Plan 13 Financing Sources”); (ii) the establishment of the Fire Victim Trust and Subrogation Wildfire Trust to 14 administer, process, settle, resolve, satisfy, and pay Fire Victim Claims and Subrogation Wildfire 15 Claims, respectively; (iii) the Plan Settlements (as defined below), (iv) the provisions governing 16 distributions under the Plan, see Plan, art. V; and (v) the procedures for resolution of Disputed Claims, 17 see Plan, art. VII.

18            As described in the Disclosure Statement, as part of the financing transactions contemplated by 19 the Plan, the Debtors expect to raise $9 billion through one or more issuances of New HoldCo Common 20 Stock or equity-linked securities, which issuance may take the form of a Rights Offering. The Equity 21 Backstop Commitment Letters, which were approved by the Court on March 16, 2020 [Docket No.
22 6321], outline the circumstances under which the Debtors, if they determine to do so, will be permitted 23 to undertake the Rights Offering and certain terms and conditions that must be included as part of the 24 Rights Offering. The Rights Offering Procedures, attached to the Ziman Declaration as Exhibit A, are 25 customary and consistent with the terms and conditions outlined in the Equity Backstop Commitment 26 Letters and their approval is necessary to effectuate the Rights Offering. Notably, if the Debtors 27 determine to pursue a Rights Offering, such Rights Offering will be made available to all shareholders 28

1 as of the established record date and will be registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended.
2 See Ziman Decl. ¶ 12. Accordingly, the Debtors seek approval of the Rights Offering Procedures
3 through the Proposed Confirmation Order, as the Debtors believe in their sound business judgment that 4 approval of the Rights Offering Procedures is in the Debtors' and their stakeholders' best interests and 5 appropriate in connection with implementation of the Plan.

6 Section 1123(a)(6): The governing corporate documents of each Debtor have been or will be 7 amended on or prior to the Effective Date to prohibit the issuance of non-voting equity securities, in 8 accordance with section 1123(a)(6) of the Bankruptcy Code. See Plan Supplement, Exs I and J.

9 Section 1123(a)(7): Section 6.11 of the Plan provides for the manner by which the composition
10 of the boards of directors of the Reorganized Debtors will be selected, and also provides for the manner 11 by which the composition of the boards of directors of the Reorganized Debtors will be disclosed in 12 accordance with section 1129(a)(5) of the Bankruptcy Code. As discussed below, certain members of 13 the post-Effective Date boards of directors were identified in the Plan Supplement. The identities and 14 affiliations of the remaining directors of the Reorganized Debtors are not yet known, but the Debtors
15 intend to file a separate notice with the Bankruptcy Court in early June 2020, setting forth the identities
16 and affiliations of each member of the boards of directors. The Plan provisions governing the manner 17 of selection of any officer, director, or manager under the Plan are consistent with the interests of 18 creditors and equity security holders and with public policy in accordance with section 1123(a)(7) of the 19 Bankruptcy Code. The Governor's Office statement that the Plan complies with AB 1054 supports the 20 Plan's compliance with the public policy aspect of this confirmation requirement. See Plan § 6.11.

21 Section 1123(a)(8): Finally, section 1123(a)(8) does not apply because the Debtors are not 22 individuals.

23 3. Section 1123(b) The Plan's Content is Permitted

24 (a) Permissive Plan Provisions

25 Section 1123(b) of the Bankruptcy Code sets forth the discretionary provisions that may be 26 incorporated into a chapter 11 plan. The Debtors have determined, as fiduciaries of their estates and in
28

1 the exercise of their reasonable business judgment, that each of the discretionary provisions of the Plan
2 is appropriate given the circumstances of these Chapter 11 Cases and consistent with section 1123(b):

3 Section 1123(b)(1): As contemplated by section 1123(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code and 4 pursuant to section 1124 of the Bankruptcy Code, Classes of Claims and Interests are impaired under 5 the Plan and subject to appropriate treatment are described in Articles III, IV, and V of the Plan.

6 Section 1123(b)(2): As contemplated by section 1123(b)(2) of the Bankruptcy Code, the Plan 7 provides for the assumption of executory contracts and unexpired leases unless such executory contract
8 or unexpired lease (i) was previously assumed or rejected by the Debtors, pursuant to a Final Order, 9 (ii) previously expired or terminated pursuant to its own terms or by agreement of the parties thereto,
10 (iii) is the subject of a motion to assume, assume and assign, or reject filed by the Debtors on or before 11 the Confirmation Date, or (iv) is specifically designated as an executory contract or unexpired lease to 12 be rejected on the Schedule of Rejected Contracts. See Plan, art. VIII.

13 Further, section 1123(d) of the Bankruptcy Code provides that “if it is proposed in a plan to cure 14 a default the amount necessary to cure the default shall be determined in accordance with the underlying 15 agreement and applicable nonbankruptcy law.” 11 U.S.C. § 1123(d).

16 Annexed as Exhibit A to the Plan Supplement is the Schedule of Rejected Contracts, which sets 17 forth the executory contracts and leases to be rejected by the Debtors pursuant to the Plan. Similarly, 18 annexed as Exhibit B to the Plan Supplement is the Schedule of Assumed Contracts, which sets forth 19 the executory contracts and leases to be assumed, or assumed and assigned, by the Debtors and the cure 20 amount, if any, as well as procedures to address disputes as to cure amounts. As of the date hereof, over 21 60 parties have filed formal objections with respect to the Debtors’ proposed assumption or rejection of 22 certain executory contracts and unexpired leases under the Plan, including disputes regarding the 23 Proposed Cure Amounts (each, a “Contract Assumption or Rejection Dispute”). The Debtors are 24 engaged in ongoing discussions with the various counterparties to the Contract Assumption or Rejection 25 Disputes. To the extent the parties have been able to successfully resolve their issues, the Debtors have 26 reflected those agreements by way of certain amendments to the Schedule of Assumed Contracts or 27 certain revisions to the Proposed Confirmation Order. To the extent any Contract Assumption or 28

1 Rejection Disputes remain unresolved as of the date of entry of the Proposed Confirmation Order, such 2 disputes will be resolved in accordance with Section 8.8(d) of the Plan, and the parties' rights are 3 preserved with respect thereto. Accordingly, the Plan complies with sections 1123(b)(2) and 1123(d) 4 of the Bankruptcy Code.

5 Section 1123(b)(3): Pursuant to section 1123(b)(3) of the Bankruptcy Code, the Plan is 6 premised on settlements reached with several of the Debtors' key constituencies and economic 7 stakeholders in these Chapter 11 Cases (collectively, the "Plan Settlements") (see Plan, arts. IV and 8 VI) and resolution of the Wildfire OII (see Plan, art. IX). As discussed below, each of the Plan 9 Settlements and the Wildfire OII Settlement Agreement (as defined below) satisfies the standard for 10 approval under Bankruptcy Rule 9019. The following Plan Settlements were separately brought before 11 the Bankruptcy Court and approved pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 9019 in advance of the Confirmation 12 Hearing:

- 13 • Settlement of Subrogation Wildfire Claims: On December 19, 2019, the Bankruptcy Court 14 entered an Order [Docket No. 5173] authorizing the Debtors to enter into, and approving the 15 terms of, that certain Restructuring Support Agreement, dated as of September 22, 2019 and 16 related settlement agreement (together, as amended and restated, and as may be further 17 amended, restated and supplemented, the "Subrogation Claims RSA") with the Consenting 18 Creditors (as defined in the Subrogation Claims RSA) and the settlements embodied therein.
 Among other things, pursuant to the Subrogation Claims RSA and the Plan, all Subrogation Wildfire Claims shall be channeled to and satisfied from the Subrogation Wildfire Trust to be funded by the Reorganized Debtors with Cash in the amount of $11 billion.
- 19 • Settlement of Fire Victim Claims: On December 19, 2019, the Bankruptcy Court entered an 20 Order [Docket No. 5174] authorizing the Debtors, the Tort Claimants Committee, the 21 Consenting Fire Claimant Professional Group, and the Shareholder Proponents to enter into, 22 and approving the terms of, that certain Restructuring Support Agreement, dated December 23 6, 2019 (as amended on December 16, 2019 and as may be further amended, restated and 24 supplemented, the "Tort Claimants RSA") and the settlements embodied therein. The Tort 25 Claimants RSA provides, among other things, that, in full and final satisfaction of all Fire 26 Victim Claims, the Debtors will fund the Fire Victim Trust, to be established for the benefit 27 of all holders of Fire Victim Claims, with the Aggregate Fire Victim Consideration.
- 28 • Settlement with Ad Hoc Noteholders Committee: On February 5, 2020, the Bankruptcy Court entered an Order [Docket No. 5637] authorizing the Debtors, the Shareholder Proponents, and the Ad Hoc Noteholders Committee to enter into, and approving the terms of, that certain Restructuring Support Agreement, dated January 22, 2020 (as may be amended, restated and supplemented, the "Noteholder RSA") and the settlements embodied therein, which fully resolved all outstanding disputes with the Ad Hoc Noteholder Committee regarding the treatment of the Utility's funded debt claims under the Plan.

- 1 • Tubbs Settlements: On January 30, 2020, the Bankruptcy Court entered an Order [Docket
2 No. 5571] approving settlements (the “Tubbs Settlements”) entered into with the 18 elderly 3 or infirm individual plaintiffs for whom the Court granted relief from the stay to pursue their 4 claims relating to the Tubbs fire (including the 32 indispensable parties associated with such 5 individuals’ claims, the “Tubbs Preference Claimants”). Pursuant to the Tubbs 6 Settlements, the Tubbs Preference Claimants’ claims were liquidated, allowed, and are to be 7 channeled to the Fire Victim Trust.
- 8 • Butte County DA Settlement: On April 16, 2020, the Bankruptcy Court entered an Order 9 [Docket No. 6785] approving a plea agreement and settlement with the People of the State 10 of California, represented by the District Attorney of Butte County (the “Butte County DA 11 Settlement”). Pursuant to the Butte County DA Settlement, the Debtors have agreed to plead 12 guilty to eighty-four counts of involuntary manslaughter, one count of unlawful starting of a 13 fire, and a fine of approximately $4 million to fully resolve the criminal prosecution of the 14 Debtors arising out of the 2018 Camp Fire. As the Court is aware, the Debtors have arranged 15 for the amount of fines, penalties and assessments to be funded from interest earned on the 16 distribution to be transferred to the Subrogation Wildfire Trust pursuant to the Plan, and 17 provisions approving the terms of, and authorizing the Debtors to perform under, those 18 agreements have been incorporated into the Proposed Confirmation Order.
- 19 • Governmental Fire Claims Settlements: On May 18, 2020, the Bankruptcy Court entered an 20 Order [Docket No. 7399] approving (i) that certain settlement, entered into as of April 21, 21 2020, by and among the Debtors, the Tort Claimants Committee, FEMA, the SBA, and the 22 other Federal Agencies (each as defined therein) (the “Federal Agency Settlement”), and 23 (ii) that certain settlement, entered into as of April 21, 2020, by and among the Debtors, the 24 Tort Claimants Committee, and the State Agencies (as defined therein) (the “State Agency
25 Settlement” and, together with the Federal Agency Settlement, the “Governmental Fire 26 Claims Settlements,” and the various state and federal agencies parties thereto, the 27 “Governmental Agencies”). The Governmental Fire Claims Settlements resolve the 28 treatment of approximately $7.5 billion in aggregate of Fire Claims that have been asserted by the various Governmental Agencies in these Chapter 11 Cases for an allowed $1 billion Subordinated Claim (to be subordinated and junior in right of payment to all other Fire Victim Claims that may be asserted against the Fire Victim Trust) and certain additional allowed Claims that total approximately $321.3 million in the aggregate.

In addition to the foregoing Plan Settlements, which were previously brought before and approved by the Bankruptcy Court pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 9019, the Debtors are hereby seeking approval of two additional key settlements in connection with confirmation of the Plan: (i) the Public Entities Settlement, and (ii) the Wildfire OII Settlement (each as defined below). The relevant terms of each of the Public Entities Settlement and the Wildfire OII Settlement and an explanation of how the Debtors easily satisfy the standards for approval of such agreements under section 1123(b) and Bankruptcy Rule 9019 are set forth below.

1 (i) Standard for Approval of Settlements Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 9019

2 The standard for approving settlements as part of a plan of reorganization are the same as the 3 standards for approving settlements under Bankruptcy Rule 9019.<sup>5</sup> Bankruptcy Rule 9019(a) provides 4 “[o]n motion by the trustee and after notice and a hearing, the court may approve a compromise and 5 settlement.” Fed. R. Bankr. P. 9019(a). This rule empowers Bankruptcy Courts to approve settlements 6 “if they are in the best interests of the estate.” Vaughn v. Drexel Burnham Lambert Grp., Inc. (In re 7 Drexel Burnham Lambert Grp., Inc.), 134 B.R. 499, 505 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1991); see also Myers v.
8 Martin (In re Martin), 91 F.3d 389, 394 (3d Cir. 1996).

9 Compromises and settlements are normal and welcomed occurrences in chapter 11 because they 10 allow a debtor and its creditors to avoid the financial and other burdens associated with litigation over 11 contentious issues and expedite the administration of the bankruptcy estate. See Protective Comm. for 12 Indep. Stockholders of TMT Trailer Ferry, Inc. v. Anderson, 390 U.S. 414, 424 (1968); Martin v. Kane
13 (In re A&C Props.), 784 F.2d 1377, 1380-81 (9th Cir. 1986). The decision to approve a particular 14 compromise lies within the sound discretion of the Court. In re A&C Props., 784 F.2d at 1380-81. A 15 proposed compromise and settlement should be approved when it is “fair and equitable” and “in the best 16 interest of the [debtor’s] estate.” Id. at 1382.

17 The standard for approval of settlements under Bankruptcy Rule 9019 is deferential to the 18 debtor’s judgment and merely requires the Court to ensure that the settlement does not fall below the 19 lowest point in the range of reasonableness in terms of benefits to the estate. See City Sanitation v.
20 Allied Waste Servs. of Mass., LLC (In re Am. Cartage, Inc.), 656 F.3d 82, 91-92 (1st Cir. 2011) (“The 21 task of both the bankruptcy court and any reviewing court is ‘to canvass the issues and see whether the 22 settlement falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness.’ . . . If a trustee chooses to accept 23 a less munificent sum for a good reason (say, to avoid potentially costly litigation), his judgment is 24 entitled to some deference.”) (citing Kowal v. Malkemus (In re Thompson), 965 F.2d 1136, 1145 (1st

6 Courts in this jurisdiction typically consider four factors in determining whether a settlement 7 should be approved: (1) the probability of success in litigation, with due consideration for the uncertainty 8 in fact and law; (2) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collecting any litigated 9 judgment; (3) the complexity and likely duration of the litigation and any attendant expense, 10 inconvenience, and delay; and (4) the paramount interest of the creditors and the proper deference to 11 their reasonable views. In re A&C Props., 784 F.2d at 1380. It is not necessary that the conclusions 12 reached in the consideration of each of the above factors support the settlement, but taken as a whole, 13 the conclusions must favor the approval of the settlement. See In re Pac. Gas & Elec. Co., 304 B.R. at 15 (ii) The Public Entities Settlement Should be Approved

16 On June 18, 2019, the Debtors and the Public Entities<sup>6</sup> entered into certain Plan Support
 17 Agreements as to Plan Treatment of Public Entities’ Wildfire Claims (the “Public Entities Plan
 18 Support Agreements”).<sup>7</sup> As described in the Disclosure Statement, pursuant to the Public Entities Plan 19 Support Agreements, the Public Entities agreed to settle and resolve all of the wildfire claims they had 20 collectively asserted in the Chapter 11 Cases and to support and vote in favor of a chapter 11 plan 21 proposed by the Debtors that provides that, among other things, the Public Entities Wildfire Claims will

 24 County of Lake, the Lake County Sanitation District, the County of Mendocino, Napa County, the 25 County of Nevada, the County of Sonoma, the Sonoma County Agricultural Preservation and Open 26 Space District, the Sonoma County Community Development Commission, the Sonoma County Water 27 Agency, the Sonoma Valley County Sanitation District and the County of Yuba (collectively, the “North 28 Bay Public Entities”); the Town of Paradise; the County of Butte; the Paradise Recreation & Park District; the County of Yuba; and the Calaveras County Water District.

<sup>7</sup> The Public Entities Plan Support Agreements are attached to the Confirmation Declaration as Exhibits
C - H.

2 accordance with the “Public Entities Settlement Distribution Protocol,” and that the Reorganized 3 Debtors will establish a $10 million segregated defense fund for the benefit of the Public Entities 4 (the “Public Entities Settlement”). The terms of the Public Entities Plan Support Agreements and 5 Public Entities Settlement are incorporated into the Plan treatment of Class 5B-I (Utility Public Entities
6 Wildfire Claims). See Plan §4.24. As of the date hereof, each of the Public Entities Plan Support 7 Agreements are in effect between and among the parties thereto.

8         The Debtors submit that the Public Entities Settlement is in the best interests of the Debtors’ 9 estates and all stakeholders and should be approved under Bankruptcy Rule 9019. As set forth in the 10 Confirmation Declaration, the Public Entities Settlement was the result of extensive, good faith, and 11 informed negotiations among parties with a thorough understanding of the underlying issues. See 12 Confirmation Declaration ¶ 34. In entering into the Public Entities Settlement, the Debtors considered 13 many factors, including the potential costs and risks associated with litigation with the Public Entities, 14 the benefit to the communities directly impacted by the Fires, the potential magnitude of the Claims that 15 could be allowed, and the benefits attendant to the Public Entities’ agreement to support the Plan in 16 connection with the Public Entities Settlement. See id.

17         Further, the Public Entities Settlement clearly does not fall below the lowest point in the range
18 of reasonableness. The Public Entity Claims, which may have resulted in significantly greater liabilities 19 on the part of the Debtors if left unresolved, were ultimately settled for $1 billion in exchange for support
20 of the plan of reorganization to be proposed by the Debtors. See id. ¶ 35, 36. Further, the Public Entities 21 Settlement was the first major settlement achieved by the Debtors and provided the initial momentum 22 toward achieving a global consensus. Id.

23         In light of the above, the Public Entities Settlement, as incorporated into the Plan, is fair and 24 reasonable and should be approved.

25                 (iii) The Wildfire OII Settlement Should be Approved

26         As stated in the Disclosure Statement, satisfactory resolution of certain pending enforcement 27 proceedings before the CPUC that related to prepetition conduct by the Debtors is a condition precedent 28

1 to the effectiveness of the Plan. See Disclosure Statement § 3.C. Of such enforcement proceedings, 2 only one, CPUC Investigation (I.) 19-06-015 (the “Wildfire OII”), is pending final resolution and 3 Bankruptcy Court approval. The Wildfire OII Decision states that upon approval by this Court of the 4 settlement agreement, as modified by the Wildfire OII Decision, the Wildfire OII proceeding is closed.<sup>8</sup>
5 See Wildfire OII Decision (defined below) at 85. The CPUC commenced the Wildfire OII to investigate 6 the role the Utility’s electrical facilities played in igniting wildfires in its service territory in 2017 and 7 2018. On December 17, 2019, the Utility, the CPUC’s Safety and Enforcement Division (“SED”), the 8 Coalition of California Utility Employees (“CUE”), and the CPUC’s Office of Safety Advocates
9 (“OSA”) filed a motion seeking approval of a settlement agreement that would resolve the Wildfire OII.
10 Following a CPUC review and an opportunity for parties to appeal the initial decision approving the 11 settlement with modifications, on May 7, 2020, the CPUC issued a final decision (the “Wildfire OII
12 Decision”)<sup>9</sup> approving the settlement agreement with certain modifications (as modified, the “Wildfire 13 OII Settlement”).

14 The Wildfire OII Settlement imposes financial obligations (the “Financial Remedies”) totaling 15 $2.137 billion on the Utility, consisting of: (i) $1.823 billion in disallowances for wildfire-related 16 expenditures; (ii) $114 million in shareholder-funded System Enhancement Initiatives and corrective 17 actions; and (iii) a $200 million fine payable to the California General Fund, which shall be permanently 18 suspended. See Wildfire OII Decision at 2. Additionally, any tax savings associated with operating 19 expenses incurred as part of the Financial Remedies are to be returned to the benefit of ratepayers. Id.

20 Pursuant to the Wildfire OII Settlement, $114 million of the Financial Remedies must be used 21 by the Utility to undertake 20 System Enhancement Initiatives and corrective actions. These initiatives 22 are tailored to promote safer operations and enhance, among other things, the Utility’s ongoing 23 vegetation management, electric operations, community engagement, and transparency and 24 accountability programs.

25 <sup>8</sup> While the non-settling parties to the Wildfire OII proceeding may file an application for rehearing with 26 the CPUC and ultimately seek judicial review of the Wildfire OII Decision, the Debtors believe the 27 probability that such actions would alter the terms of the Wildfire OII Decision is remote.

28 <sup>9</sup> The procedural history of the Wildfire OII is set forth in greater detail in the Wildfire OII Decision, which is attached as Exhibit I to the Confirmation Declaration.

1           The Debtors submit that the Wildfire OII Settlement is in the best interests of the Debtors' estates 2 and should be approved pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 9019. The Wildfire OII Settlement is the result of 3 months of extensive, good faith, and informed negotiations among parties with a thorough understanding 4 of the underlying issues. Prior to reaching the settlement, the Utility engaged in extensive discovery, 5 submitted testimony, and participated in status conferences before the CPUC. The Utility obtained a 6 comprehensive understanding of the allegations made against it, assessed the strength of its litigation
7 positions, and then entered into the settlement to resolve the Wildfire OII. The Utility has also carefully 8 considered the modifications to the settlement set forth in the Wildfire OII Decision and the likelihood 9 of success if it sought rehearing or appeal of the Wildfire OII Decision. See Confirmation Declaration 10 ¶ 40.

11           The Wildfire OII Settlement fully resolves the Wildfire OII and, subject to the possibility of 12 challenges by the non-settling parties (see n.8), eliminates the costs and uncertainties associated with 13 further litigation, including the possible costs of rehearing, appeal, and additional penalties, and 14 ultimately benefits the Utility's customers through the System Enhancement Initiatives contemplated 15 therein. See Confirmation Declaration ¶ 41. As set forth above and in more detail in the Wildfire OII
16 Decision, the Wildfire OII Settlement contemplates Financial Remedies totaling $2.137 billion, $200
17 million of which is a fine payable to the California General Fund that has been permanently suspended, 18 and the pass-through of certain tax benefits to ratepayers. The Debtors believe this result is reasonable.
19 Absent the settlement, the CPUC could ultimately determine that additional financial remedies or 20 penalties in excess of what is currently contemplated in the Wildfire OII Settlement are warranted.

21           Further, the Wildfire OII Settlement clearly does not fall below the lowest point in the range of 22 reasonableness. Indeed, the CPUC has determined that the Wildfire OII Settlement is reasonable in light 23 of the whole record, consistent with applicable law, and in the public interest. See Wildfire OII Decision 24 at 81. Moreover, resolution of the Wildfire OII is a condition to the Effective Date and the ability of the 25 Debtors to timely emerge from chapter 11.

26           In light of the above, the Wildfire OII Settlement is fair and reasonable and should be approved 27 pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 9019.

1           Section 1123(b)(6): As permitted by section 1123(b)(6) of the Bankruptcy Code, a plan may 2 “include any other appropriate provision not inconsistent with the applicable provisions of [the 3 Bankruptcy Code].” 11 U.S.C. § 1123(b)(6). In accordance with section 1123(b)(6) of the Bankruptcy 4 Code, the Plan contains certain provisions for (i) distributions to holders of Claims and Interests, 5 (ii) resolution of Disputed Claims, (iii) allowance of certain Claims, (iv) the releases, injunction, and 6 exculpation provisions set forth in Article X of the Plan, and (v) retention of Bankruptcy Court
 7 jurisdiction, in each case consistent with the applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code and Ninth 8 Circuit law. The Plan’s releases, injunction, and exculpation provisions are separately addressed below.

9                           (iv) The Debtors’ Releases are Appropriate and Should be Approved

10           The Debtors’ Releases, as provided in Section 10.9(a) of the Plan, for good and valuable 11 consideration, are entirely appropriate, a sound exercise of the Debtors’ business judgment, and should 12 be approved. Claims held by a debtor are property of the estate and may be released as part of a plan.
 13 See In re Pac. Gas & Elec., 304 B.R. at 416-18, n.26 (“[I]t is permissible for a plan to provide for the 14 settlement or adjustment of any claim ‘belonging to the debtor or to the estate.’”). And such a release, 15 as part of a plan, should be approved if it represents a valid exercise of the debtors’ business judgment 16 and satisfies the fair, reasonable, and adequate standard set by Bankruptcy Rule 9019. See In re Pac.
 17 Gas & Elec., 304 B.R. at 416 (“Given that section 1123(b)(3)(A) permits a plan of reorganization to 18 include settlements, and given the overwhelming votes in favor of the Plan, such review [under Rule
 19 9019] might be unnecessary. Nevertheless . . . [t]he court will discuss the releases as if Rule 9019 20 governs”); In re Aina Le’a, Inc., No. BR 17-00611, 2019 WL 2274909, at *12 (Bankr. D. Haw. May 21 24, 2019) (“The releases of Claims and Rights of Action by the Debtor described herein and in the Plan, 22 in accordance with section 1123(b) of the Bankruptcy Code (the ‘Debtor’s Release’), represent a valid 23 exercise of the Debtor’s business judgment under Bankruptcy Rule 9019.”).

24           The Debtors’ Releases are important to the settlements at the heart of the Plan and to securing 25 the extensive efforts and contributions of the Released Parties to these Chapter 11 Cases, which were 26 necessary to bring these Cases to a successful resolution—highlighted by, with Court approval of the
 28

1 Plan, the Debtors' successful emergence on the tight timeline imposed by AB 1054. See Confirmation 2 Declaration ¶ 45.

3 (v) The Non-Debtor Releases are Appropriate, Consensual and Should be 4 Approved

5 Additionally, the Non-Debtors' Releases are appropriate and should be approved. The Non-6 Debtors' Releases are entirely consensual "opt-in" releases and thus fully comply with Ninth Circuit 7 law and section 524(e) of the Bankruptcy Code, which prohibit only nonconsensual third party releases.
8 See Resorts Int'l v. Lowenschuss (In re Lowenschuss), 67 F.3d 1394, 1401-02 (9th Cir. 1995). In fact, 9 Section 10.9(c) of the Plan specifically states that except as set forth under Section 4.25(f)(ii) of the 10 Plan, "notwithstanding any other provision of this Plan, nothing in the Plan is intended to, nor shall the 11 Plan be interpreted to, effect a nonconsensual release by a holder of a Claim in favor of a party that is 12 not a Debtor." And Section 1.180 also makes it perfectly clear that no holder of a Claim or Interest 13 grants a release unless it affirmatively elects to do so on a Ballot.

14 The Non-Debtor Releases are fair, equitable, and permissible. See In re Yellowstone Mountain
15 Club, LLC, 460 B.R. 254, 277 (Bankr. D. Mont. 2011) (same), appeal dismissed sub nom. by Sumpter
16 v. Yellowstone Mountain Club, LLC, No. CV-11-66-BU-SEH, 2013 WL 2076533 (D. Mont. Mar. 6, 17 2013), aff'd, Sumpter v. Yellowstone Mountain Club, LLC, 584 F. App'x 676 (9th Cir. 2014), appeal 18 dismissed as moot by Blixseth v. Yellowstone Mountain Club, LLC, 609 F. App'x 390 (9th Cir. 2015).
19 The Released Parties have made significant contributions to the success of these Chapter 11 Cases, 20 including, in certain instances, compromising their claims to reach settlements that furthered the 21 resolution of these Chapter 11 Cases, financing the Debtors' operation during, and emergence from, 22 these Chapter 11 Cases, and otherwise supporting the Debtors' intensive efforts and negotiations to build 23 near-universal consensus behind the Plan—a result which benefits all parties in interest. See 24 Confirmation Declaration at ¶ 47. The Non-Debtor Releases, again, that are entirely voluntary and 25 consensual, thus appropriately offer certain protections to parties that constructively participated in the 26 Debtors' restructuring, and should be approved as fair, reasonable, and equitable.

1 The Mutual Made-Whole Release in Section 4.25(f)(ii) of the Plan likewise operates as a 2 consensual release, because its execution is only required as a condition to reaching a settlement with 3 the Fire Victim Trust. In other words, insureds may voluntarily choose to continue to litigate their claim 4 against their insurance company rather than signing the Mutual Made-Whole Release, or they may 5 choose to sign the release pursuant to a settlement with the Fire Victim Trust. As this Court has 6 previously recognized,

7 the evolution of the releases, as they have gone through the iterations 8 of the RSA -- excuse me, the subrogation RSA, are such that they 9 truly are consensual now, and they are opt in rather than opt 10 out traps for the unwary. . . . [A] tough decision is not a coerced
 11 decision, or in my mind, a unlawful decision. So I'm satisfied 12 that the way the RSAs have played out with the releases that 13 they're permissible under the both documents.

14 Hr'g Tr. (Dec. 17, 2019) at 294-95 (emphasis added); see also In re Station Casinos, Inc., No. BK-09-15 52477, 2010 Bankr. LEXIS 5380 (Bankr. D. Nev. Aug. 27, 2010); Billington v. Winograde (In re Hotel 16 Mt. Lassen), 207 B.R. 935 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 1997).

17 Finally, the mutuality of the Mutual Made-Whole Release, i.e., that the insurers must also release 18 their claims against their insureds—an outcome that was reached after hard-fought negotiations and 19 argument before this Court—ensures the Mutual Made-Whole Releases are fair, equitable and 20 appropriate.

21 (vi) The Plan Exculpation Provisions Should be Approved

22 Exculpation of estate fiduciaries and plan proponents is customary and permissible in chapter 23 11. Indeed, several Bankruptcy Courts within the Ninth Circuit have approved release or exculpation 24 provisions that extend to the plan proponents, including non-Debtor plan proponents. See In re 25 Yellowstone Mountain Club, 460 B.R. at, 277 (approving exculpation that extended to “the Debtors, 26 Committee [of Unsecured Creditors], Credit Suisse and CrossHarbor, who all became, in essence, plan 27 proponents”); In re Lighthouse Lodge, LLC, No. 09-52610-RLE, 2010 WL 4053984, at *6, *9 (Bankr.
 28 N.D. Cal. Oct. 14, 2010) (“This release of liability except from gross negligence or willful misconduct has been extended to plan proponents other than a committee.”); In re W. Asbestos Co., 313 B.R. 832, 1 846-47 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2003) (approving provision that released claims against the Plan Proponents 2 other than the Debtors).

3 Plan exculpations may also extend to non-estate fiduciaries when the exculpated parties make 4 substantial contributions to the reorganization, the exculpations are important to such parties' 5 participation in the reorganization efforts, and the exculpations are limited "in both scope and time" to 6 actions related to the chapter 11 cases. See In re Yellowstone Mountain Club, 460 B.R. at 272; Meritage
7 Homes of Nev. Inc. v. JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. (In re S. Edge LLC), 478 B.R. 403, 415-16 (D. Nev.
8 2012) (approving exculpation of third party nondebtors because exculpation "sets a standard of care to 9 be applied in the bankruptcy proceeding" and "does not improperly release third party nondebtors");
10 Lazo v. Roberts, No. CV15-7037-CAS(PJWx), 2016 WL 738273, at *7 (C.D. Cal. Feb. 22, 2016)
11 ("Increasingly, however, [t]he trend among bankruptcy courts [more generally] has been to confirm 12 chapter 11 plans with express discharge or indemnification provisions for nondebtors if they meet certain 13 tailored criteria or overall necessity. This overall trend is evident in the Ninth Circuit.") (internal 14 quotation marks and citations omitted); see also In re Stearns Holdings, LLC, 607 B.R. 781, 790 (Bankr.
15 S.D.N.Y. 2019) (holding that exculpation could extend to parties "who make a substantial contribution 16 to a debtor's reorganization and play an integral role in building consensus in support of a debtor's 17 restructuring"). And exculpation clauses are without a doubt essential in cases like this one that are 18 heavily litigated. See In re Yellowstone Mountain Club, 460 B.R. at 274 ("An exculpation clause in this 19 case was certainly advisable given the litigious posture of the parties.").

20 The exculpation provision in the Plan appropriately excludes actual fraud and willful 21 misconduct, and there is no requirement that breaches of professional duties be excluded from a plan 22 exculpation provision. See In re W. Asbestos Co., 313 B.R. at 846 (approving provision that "neither 23 the Plan Proponents nor any of their agents, including their attorneys, shall be liable, other than for 24 willful misconduct, with respect to any action or omission prior to the effective date in connection with 25 the Debtors' operations, the Plan, or the conduct of the bankruptcy case") (emphasis added).

26 The exculpation provision the Court upheld in In re Yellowstone Mountain Club is particularly 27 instructive. There, as here, the exculpation provision was limited both temporally and in scope to actions 28

1 related to the reorganization; specifically, “any act or omission in connection with, relating to or arising 2 out of the Chapter 11 cases, the formulation, negotiation, implementation, confirmation or 3 consummation of this Plan, the Disclosure Statement, or any contract, instrument, release or other 4 agreement or document entered into during the Chapter 11 Cases or otherwise created in connection 5 with this Plan.” Id. at 267. Furthermore, like here, the exculpation clause extended to major 6 stakeholders, including the provider of debtor in possession financing and the largest creditor in the case, 7 who had “vigorously negotiat[ed]” the plan, leading the plan to be essentially a collaborative effort, of 8 which the exculpation was a “cornerstone.” Id. at 277. The exculpation clause also similarly covered 9 the various agents, professionals, and other related parties of the exculpated parties—specifically, “with 10 respect to each of the foregoing Persons, each of their respective directors, officers, employees, agents 11 . . . representatives, shareholders, partners, members, attorneys, investment bankers, restructuring 12 consultants and financial advisors.” Id. at 267.<sup>10</sup> Here, the Plan exculpation extends to the major 13 stakeholders in this case who, respectively, provided funding for the Debtors’ reorganization and 14 collaborated with the Debtors in the countless hours of negotiation and mediation that culminated in 15 reaching the four RSAs that became the “cornerstone[s]” of the Plan. Finally, the exculpation in In re 16 Yellowstone Mountain Club excluded only acts of willful misconduct and gross negligence. See id. at 17 267, 276-77.

18 The argument that the Plan exculpation is inappropriate because it may cover certain acts 19 occurring after the Effective Date of the Plan is unavailing. The provisions of the Plan exculpation, 20 which are limited to acts or omissions related to the Debtors’ reorganization, provide an inherent 21 temporal limitation. See In re Yellowstone Mountain Club, LLC, 460 B.R. at 277 (finding limitation in

23 <sup>10</sup> Although the Plan includes some variations from the list of related parties used in In re Yellowstone, 24 the Plan’s list is not unique in the chapter 11 context and the intent is the same—to protect those parties 25 who contributed to the reorganization. See In re Breitburn Energy Partners LP, Order Confirming

1 exculpation clause that applied only to acts or omissions related to the reorganization was “temporal in 2 nature” despite not providing specific deadlines for coverage). Although the Court in In re Yellowstone
 3 Mountain Club, LLC interpreted that inherent temporal limitation as ending at the Effective Date, a 4 precise end date is neither appropriate nor required here, where the intricacies and complicated financing
 5 of the Debtors’ emergence may necessitate that certain transactions that are integral to the Plan happen, 6 in part, after the Effective Date.

7 B. Section 1129(a)(2): The Debtors have Complied with the Bankruptcy Code

8 Section 1129(a)(2) of the Bankruptcy Code requires that plan proponents comply with the 9 applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(2). The legislative history to section 10 1129(a)(2) indicates that this provision is intended to encompass the disclosure and solicitation 11 requirements under sections 1125 and 1126 of the Bankruptcy Code.<sup>11</sup>

12 1. Section 1125: Postpetition Disclosure Statement and Solicitation

13 Section 1125(b) of the Bankruptcy Code provides, in pertinent part, that:

14 An acceptance or rejection of a plan may not be solicited after the 15 commencement of [a] case under [the Bankruptcy Code] from a holder of a 16 claim or interest with respect to such claim or interest, unless, at the time of 17 or before such solicitation, there is transmitted to such holder the plan or a summary of the plan, and a written disclosure statement approved, after notice and a hearing, by the court as containing adequate information.

18 11 U.S.C. § 1125(b).

19 By entry of the Disclosure and Solicitation Procedures Order on March 17, 2020, the Court 20 approved the Disclosure Statement pursuant to section 1125(b) of the Bankruptcy Code as containing 21 “adequate information” of a kind and in sufficient detail to enable hypothetical, reasonable investors 22 typical of the Debtors’ creditors to make an informed judgment regarding whether to accept or reject the 23 Plan.

1 In accordance with the Disclosure and Solicitation Procedures Order, and as set forth in the 2 Solicitation Certifications, Prime Clerk LLC (“Prime Clerk”), the Court-appointed solicitation and 3 balloting agent, on behalf of the Plan Proponents, distributed copies of the Disclosure Statement, 4 applicable Ballots, Confirmation Hearing Notice, and other applicable notices and materials that were 5 included in the Solicitation Packages to creditors and interest holders commencing on March 30, 2020
6 and was thereafter substantially completed on or about April 8, 2020. See Solicitation Certifications.
7 Prime Clerk served Solicitation Packages on approximately 250,000 voting creditors and interest holders
8 (including Fire Victims whose Law Firms instructed Prime Clerk to serve their clients solicitation 9 materials for informational purposes only) and the Confirmation Hearing Notice on approximately 10 450,000 parties in total. In addition, the Debtors published the Confirmation Hearing Notice 11 (the “Publication Notice”) in 28 local and national publications<sup>12</sup> and posted copies of the Disclosure 12 Statement and other solicitation materials on the Case Website (in both English and Spanish). See 13 Publication Affidavit.

14 The Court-approved solicitation and voting procedures were carefully designed, specifically 15 with respect to Fire Victim voting, and were the product of a comprehensive effort on the part of the 16 Debtors and the Tort Claimants Committee to assure that Fire Victim Claimants were provided full and 17 fair opportunities to vote to accept or reject the Plan. The Disclosure Statement and Solicitation 18 Procedures Order included explicit procedures for the attorneys of Fire Victims (each, a “Firm”) to 19 solicit votes from their clients, including the use of Fire Victim Master Ballots. In accordance with the 20 solicitation procedures, each Firm was required to certify it complied with applicable rules and 21 procedures regarding securing informed consent of its Fire Victim clients with respect to each such 22 claimant’s vote on the Plan. See Disclosure and Solicitation Procedures Order, Exs. A, C.

23 In light of the COVID-19 pandemic, Prime Clerk, at the Debtors’ direction, worked diligently

2 to provide a full and fair opportunity for all holders of Fire Victim Claims to vote on the Plan.

3 In addition, pursuant to the procedures approved by the Court in the Disclosure Statement and 4 Solicitation Procedures Order, the Debtors solicited the votes of timely filed HoldCo Rescission or 5 Damage Claims on a rolling basis as such claims were filed, through and including April 16, 2020. In 6 accordance with the Disclosure Statement and Solicitation Procedures Order, Prime Clerk, at the 7 Debtors' direction, mailed solicitation materials to approximately 4,000 individuals and entities that the 8 Debtors identified as holders of potential Class 10A-II HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims based on 9 a review of their claims and certain supporting documentation submitted in connection therewith.
10 Additionally, and notwithstanding the passage of the Extended Bar Date, the Debtors endeavored to 11 provide provisional ballots to any individuals that filed late HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims, as 12 well as those individuals that requested (formally or informally) an extension of time to file such equity-13 based claims, prior to May 11, 2020 to allow such individuals an opportunity to submit ballots in advance 14 of the May 15 Voting Deadline.

15 As such, the Solicitation Packages were transmitted in compliance with section 1125 of the 16 Bankruptcy Code and the Disclosure and Solicitation Procedures Order. Further, in compliance with 17 section 1125(b), the Plan Proponents did not solicit acceptances of the Plan from any holder of a Claim 18 or Interest prior to entry of the Disclosure Statement and Solicitation Procedures Order.

19 2. Section 1126: Acceptance or Rejection of the Plan

20 Section 1126 of the Bankruptcy Code specifies the requirements for acceptance of the Plan.
21 Under section 1126, only holders of Allowed Claims and Interests in impaired Classes that will receive 22 or retain property under the Plan on account of such Claims or Interests may vote to accept or reject the 23 Plan. In accordance with section 1126 of the Bankruptcy Code, the Debtors solicited acceptances of the 24 Plan from the holders of Claims and Interests in each of the Voting Classes that were entitled to vote to 25 accept or reject the Plan. In accordance with Articles III and IV of the Plan, the Disclosure Statement 26 and Solicitation Procedures Order, and section 1126(f) of the Bankruptcy Code, the Debtors did not

1 solicit acceptances from the holders of Claims or Interests in the Non-Voting Classes, as the holders of 2 such Claims and Interests are not impaired under the Plan and thus are presumed to accept the Plan.

3 Section 1126(c) of the Bankruptcy Code specifies the requirements for acceptance of a plan by 4 impaired classes of claims entitled to vote to accept or reject a plan of reorganization:

5 A class of claims has accepted a plan if such plan has been accepted by 6 creditors, other than any entity designated under subsection (e) of this 7 section, that hold at least two-thirds in amount and more than one-half in 8 number of the allowed claims of such class held by creditors, other than any entity designated under subsection (e) of this section, that have accepted or rejected such plan.

9 11 U.S.C. § 1126(c).

10 Section 1126(d) of the Bankruptcy Code specifies the requirements for acceptance of a plan by 11 impaired classes of interests entitled to vote to accept or reject a plan of reorganization:

12 A class of interests has accepted a plan if such plan has been accepted by 13 holders of such interests, other than any entity designated under subsection 14 (e) of this section, that hold at least two-thirds in amount of the allowed 15 interests of such class held by holders of such interests, other than any entity designated under subsection (e) of this section, that have accepted or rejected such plan.

16 11 U.S.C. § 1126(d).

17 Pursuant to the Scheduling Order, the Voting Deadline was May 15, 2020 at 4:00 p.m.
18 (Prevailing Pacific Time). As set forth in the chart above, and as evidenced by the Voting Certification, 19 the Plan has been accepted by creditors and shareholders holding Claims and Interests in Class 5A-I 20 (HoldCo Public Entities Wildfire Claims), Class 5A-II (HoldCo Subrogation Wildfire Claims), Class 21 5A-III (HoldCo Fire Victim Claims), Class 10A-I (HoldCo Common Interests), Class 3B-I (Utility 22 Impaired Senior Note Claims), Class 3B-III (Utility Short-Term Senior Note Claims), Class 3B-IV 23 (Utility Funded Debt Claims), Class 5B-I (Utility Public Entities Wildfire Claims), Class 5B-II (Utility 24 Subrogation Wildfire Claims), and Class 5B-III (Utility Fire Victim Claims) (collectively, 25 the “Accepting Classes”). As set forth above, Class 10A-II (HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims) is 26 the only Voting Class that did not vote to accept the Plan.

C. Section 1129(a)(3): The Plan has been Proposed in Good Faith and is Not by any Means Forbidden by Law

The Debtors have satisfied section 1129(a)(3) of the Bankruptcy Code, which requires that a plan be “proposed in good faith and not by any means forbidden by law.” 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(3). Good faith is evaluated under the totality of the circumstances. See Jorgensen v. Fed. Land Bank of Spokane (In re Jorgensen), 66 B.R. 104, 108-09 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1986); Jasik v. Conrad (In re Jasik), 727 F.2d 1379, 1383 (5th Cir. 1984). A plan has been proposed “in good faith” so long as it is reasonably likely to achieve a result consistent with the objectives and purposes of the Bankruptcy Code, and deals with creditors in a fundamentally fair manner. See Ryan v. Loui (In re Corey), 892 F.2d 829, 835 (9th Cir. 1989); In re Madison Hotel Assocs., 749 F.2d 410, 425 (7th Cir. 1984); Stolrow v. Stolrow’s, Inc. (In re Stolrow’s Inc.), 84 B.R. 167, 172 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1988); In re Nite Lite Inns, 17 B.R. 367, 370 (Bankr. S.D. Cal. 1982). In addition, the good faith standard requires that the plan be “proposed with honesty, good intentions and a basis for expecting that a reorganization can be effect[uated] . . . .” See In re Zenith Elecs. Corp., 241 B.R. 92, 107 (Bankr. D. Del. 1999).

The Plan clearly satisfies these standards. As set forth in the Confirmation Declaration and the Disclosure Statement, and as is readily apparent based on the record of these Chapter 11 Cases, the Plan is the product of protracted and good-faith negotiations with key parties in interest and also involved the consideration of a competing plan. See Confirmation Declaration ¶¶ 51-56. The Plan has been proposed in good faith and is emblematic of the intent and purpose of chapter 11. It embodies a comprehensive, largely consensual restructuring that will fairly and equitably address all Fire Victim Claims and other prepetition claims and equity interests, allow the Reorganized Debtors to access the Go-Forward Wildfire Fund, maximize value for all parties in interest, and ensure that the Utility will be positioned to deliver safe and reliable service to its customers. It clearly is the best way forward for the Debtors’ business, their estates and their creditors, as evidenced by the Plan voting results.

Further, the CPUC’s proposed decision in the Plan OII (defined below), the significant agreements and compromises that are embodied in the Plan, and the support of the Governor’s Office, the Public Entities, the Ad Hoc Subrogation Group, the Ad Hoc Noteholders Committee, and the

1 Shareholder Proponents, as well as the vote on the Plan, are a testament to the overall fairness of the 2 Plan and that the Plan has been proposed in good faith and for proper purposes.

3 D. Section 1129(a)(4): The Plan Provides that Professional Fees and Expenses are 4 Subject to Court Approval

5 Section 1129(a)(4) requires that “any payment made or to be made by the proponent . . . for 6 services or for costs and expenses in or in connection with the case, or in connection with the plan and 7 incident to the case, has been approved by, or is subject to the approval of, the court as reasonable.” 11 8 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(4). Section 1129(a)(4) has been construed to require that all payments of professional 9 fees that are made from estate assets be subject to review and approval as to their reasonableness by the 10 Court.<sup>13</sup>

11 All payments for services provided to the Debtors during these Chapter 11 Cases must be 12 approved by the Bankruptcy Court as reasonable in accordance with section 1129(a)(4) of the 13 Bankruptcy Code. Pursuant to the interim compensation procedures established under section 331 of 14 the Bankruptcy Code, the Bankruptcy Court authorized and approved the payment of certain fees and 15 expenses of professionals retained in these Chapter 11 Cases [Docket No. 701] (the “Interim 16 Compensation Order”). Section 2.2 of the Plan provides that all final requests for the payment of 17 Professional Fee Claims “will be subject to approval by the Bankruptcy Court after notice and a hearing 18 in accordance with the procedures established by the Bankruptcy Code, the Interim Compensation 19 Order, and any other prior orders of the Bankruptcy Court regarding the payment of Professionals in the 20 Chapter 11 Cases.” Plan § 2.2(a).<sup>14</sup>

23 2010) (“Under its clear terms, ‘any payment’ made or to be made by the plan proponent or the debtor 24 for services ‘in or in connection with’ the plan or the case must be approved by or ‘subject to the approval of’ the bankruptcy court as ‘reasonable.’”); In re Texaco Inc., 84 B.R. 893, 908 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1988), appeal dismissed, 92 B.R. 38 (S.D.N.Y. 1988).

25 <sup>14</sup> Pursuant to the terms of the Proposed Plan OII Decision (as defined below), the Utility is required to 26 reimburse the CPUC for payment of the fees and expenses incurred by the CPUC for its outside counsel 27 and financial advisor for services rendered relating to the Chapter 11 Cases, related proceedings and 28 associated financings. In compliance with the Proposed Plan OII Decision, the Proposed Confirmation Order provides the Debtors authority upon entry of the Confirmation Order to reimburse the required

1 All such fees and expenses, as well as all other accrued fees and expenses of professionals
 2 through the Effective Date, remain subject to final review for reasonableness by the Court under sections 3 327, 328, 330, 331, and 503(b) of the Bankruptcy Code.

4 E. Section 1129(a)(5): The Debtors have Disclosed All Necessary Information
 5 Regarding Directors, Officers, and Insiders

6 Section 1129(a)(5) of the Bankruptcy Code requires that the plan proponent disclose the identity 7 and affiliations of the proposed officers and directors of the reorganized debtors; that the appointment 8 or continuance of such officers and directors be consistent with the interests of creditors and equity 9 security holders and with public policy; and that there be disclosure of the identity and compensation of 10 any insiders to be retained or employed by the reorganized debtors. See 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(5). If, at 11 the time of confirmation, the debtor is unable to identify these individuals by name, a debtor still satisfies 12 this requirement so long as directors will be appointed consistent with the company's organizational 13 documents and applicable state and federal law.<sup>15</sup>

14 Section 6.11 of the Plan and Exhibit G to the Plan Supplement describe the manner in which the 15 post-Effective Date board and management of each of the Debtors will be selected, and also provide for 16 the manner by which the composition of the boards of directors of the Reorganized Debtors will be 17 disclosed in accordance with section 1129(a)(5) of the Bankruptcy Code. Certain members of the post-18 Effective Date boards of directors were identified in the Plan Supplement; however, the identities and 19 affiliations of the remaining directors of the Reorganized Debtors have not been determined. See 20 Confirmation Declaration ¶¶ 59-60. In compliance with section 1129(a)(5) of the Bankruptcy Code, the 21 remaining directors will be appointed consistent with the Debtors' organizational documents and 22 _____

 23 fees and expenses of the CPUC without further review and approval by this Court, the Fee Examiner, or 24 any other party in interest.

 27 all directors of the reorganized entity, that provision is satisfied by the Debtors' disclosure at this time 28 of the identities of the known directors.”), appeal dismissed, 449 B.R. 14 (S.D.N.Y. 2011, aff'd, 691 subsection (a)(5)(A)(i).”).

1 applicable state and federal law, and the Debtors intend to file a separate notice with the Bankruptcy 2 Court in early June 2020, setting forth the identities and affiliations of each member of the boards of 3 directors. As such, the Plan provisions governing the manner of selection of any officer, director, or 4 manager under the Plan are consistent with the interests of creditors and equity security holders and with 5 public policy in accordance with the Bankruptcy Code. See Plan § 6.11.

6 F. Section 1129(a)(6): Approval of Any Rate Changes

7 Section 1129(a)(6) of the Bankruptcy Code provides that “[a]ny governmental regulatory 8 commission with jurisdiction, after confirmation of the plan, over the rates of the debtor has approved 9 any rate change provided for in the plan, or such rate change is expressly conditioned on such approval.”
 10 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(6). As discussed below, in connection with the Plan OII, the proposed decision of 11 the CPUC finds that the Plan satisfies the AB 1054 requirement that the Plan be neutral, on average, to 12 ratepayers. Any future rate increases will be subject to CPUC review and approval. Accordingly, the 13 Plan satisfies section 1129(a)(6) of the Bankruptcy Code.

14 G. Section 1129(a)(7): The Plan is in the Best Interest of All Holders of Claims and 15 Interests

16 Section 1129(a)(7) of the Bankruptcy Code requires:

17 [w]ith respect to each impaired class of claims or interests[,] (A) each 18 holder of a claim or interest of such class (i) has accepted the plan; or (ii) 19 will receive or retain under the plan . . . property of a value . . . that is not 20 less than the amount that such holder would so receive or retain if the 21 debtor were liquidated under chapter 7 of [the Bankruptcy Code] . . .

22 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(7). This “best interest” test focuses on potential individual dissenting creditors
 23 rather than classes of claims. See Bank of Am. Nat’l Trust & Sav. Ass’n v. 203 N. LaSalle St. P’ship, 24 526 U.S. 434, 441 n.13 (1999). It requires that each holder of a claim or equity interest either accept the 25 plan, or receive or retain under the plan property having a present value—as of the effective date of the 26 plan—not less than the amount such holder would receive or retain if the debtor were liquidated under 27 chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code. Under the best interest test, courts “must take into consideration the 28 applicable rules of distribution of the estate under chapter 7, as well as the probable costs incident to such liquidation.” In re Adelpia Commc’ns Corp., 368 B.R. 140, 252 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2007). To the

1 best of the Debtors' knowledge, none of the Objectors has raised any issue or attempted to argue in any 2 of the Objections that the Plan fails to satisfy the best interest of creditors test. As set forth in Section 3 VII.B of the Disclosure Statement, the Debtors believe that the value, if any, distributable to each Class 4 in a chapter 7 liquidation, would be equal to, or, more likely, less than, the value of distributions under 5 the Plan, and such distributions in a chapter 7 case would not occur for a substantial period of time, thus 6 lowering the value one would expect to recover as of the potential chapter 7 conversion date.

7 As noted in the Disclosure Statement, a chapter 7 liquidation would likely result (i) in the 8 incurrence of increased costs and expenses arising from fees payable to a trustee in bankruptcy and 9 professional advisors to such trustee, (ii) in an erosion of asset values in the context of a forced sale or 10 takeover, and (iii) in the substantial increase in Claims that would have to be satisfied on a priority basis 11 or on parity with creditors in the Chapter 11 Cases. The Debtors believe the liquidation process in 12 chapter 7 would result in a failure to meet the June 30, 2020 emergence deadline associated with AB 13 1054, which could significantly impact potential values recoverable in a liquidation. Further, the 14 Governor's Office could intervene in a liquidation scenario and develop a plan for takeover by the State 15 of California or certain Northern California Counties, which likely would depress the value realized on 16 the Debtors' assets.

17 The process of liquidating the Debtors' businesses in chapter 7 would also be subject to review 18 by numerous regulatory agencies, including the CPUC, the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, the 19 Nuclear Regulatory Commission and the U.S. Department of Justice, which could delay the process of 20 receiving any significant proceeds for two years or more. In the event litigation were necessary to 21 resolve Claims asserted in the chapter 7 case, the delay could be further prolonged and would likely 22 involve further costs. See Boken Declaration ¶¶ 18-19.

23 In contrast, under the Plan, all funded debt and general unsecured creditors are to be paid in full, 24 with postpetition interest, or have their Claims reinstated or replaced with new debt. In addition, all Fire 25 Victim Claims will be channeled to and satisfied by the Fire Victim Trust in compliance with AB 1054.
26 Lastly, holders of Interests will retain their shares, subject to dilution. Under these circumstances it is 27 patently obvious that a liquidation under chapter 7 could not produce greater value, without even taking 28

1 into account the substantial delay involved in distributing any proceeds. Accordingly, the Plan satisfies 2 the requirements of section 1129(a)(7) of the Bankruptcy Code.

3 H. Section 1129(a)(8): The Plan has Been Accepted by Impaired Voting Classes

4 Section 1129(a)(8) of the Bankruptcy Code requires that each class of impaired claims or 5 interests accept the plan, as follows: “With respect to each class of claims or interests--(A) such class 6 has accepted the plan; or (B) such class is not impaired under the plan.” 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(8). Section 7 1126 of the Bankruptcy Code provides that a plan is accepted by an impaired class of claims if the 8 accepting class members hold at least two-third in amount and more than one-half in number of the 9 claims in their respective class. 11 U.S.C. § 1126(c).

10 The holders of Claims and Interests in the ten Accepting Classes have voted to accept the Plan
11 in accordance with section 1126 of the Bankruptcy Code. See Voting Certification Ex. A. The holders 12 of Claims in Class 10A-II (HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims) are the only Class that has voted to 13 reject the Plan. Id. However, as discussed below, the Debtors have satisfied the requirements of section 14 1129(a)(10) of the Bankruptcy Code, and will be able to “cram down” Class 10A-II under section 15 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code. Accordingly, the Debtors submit that they have satisfied section 16 1129(a)(8) of the Bankruptcy Code.

17 I. Section 1129(a)(9): The Plan Provides for Payment in Full of All Allowed Priority
18 Claims

19 Section 1129(a)(9) of the Bankruptcy Code requires that persons holding allowed claims entitled 20 to priority under section 507(a) receive specified cash payments under the plan. Unless the holder of a 21 particular claim agrees to a different treatment with respect to such claim, section 1129(a)(9) of the 22 Bankruptcy Code sets forth the treatment the plan must provide.

23 Under Section 2.1 of the Plan, holders of Allowed Administrative Expense Claims under section 24 503(b) of the Bankruptcy Code shall receive Cash in full and final satisfaction of their Allowed 25 Administrative Expense Claims on the Effective Date or as soon as reasonably practicable thereafter, 26 except to the extent the Debtors or Reorganized Debtors, as applicable, and a holder of an Allowed 27 Administrative Expense Claim against a Debtor agree to less favorable treatment of such Allowed 28

1 Administrative Expense Claim. See Plan § 2.1. Further, pursuant to Article IV of the Plan, all Allowed 2 Priority Non-Tax Claims under section 507(a), unless otherwise agreed, shall receive, at the option of 3 the Debtors or Reorganized Debtors, as applicable (i) Cash in an amount equal to such Allowed Priority
4 Non-Tax Claim, including interest through the Effective Date calculated at the Federal Judgment Rate, 5 payable on the Effective Date or as soon as reasonably practicable thereafter, or (ii) such other treatment 6 consistent with the provisions of section 1129(a)(9) of the Bankruptcy Code.

7 The Plan also satisfies the requirements of section 1129(a)(9)(C) of the Bankruptcy Code in 8 respect of the treatment of Priority Tax Claims under section 507(a)(8). Pursuant to Section 2.4 of the 9 Plan and except as otherwise may be agreed, holders of Allowed Priority Tax Claims shall receive, at 10 the option of the Debtors or Reorganized Debtors, (i) Cash in an amount equal to such Allowed Priority 11 Tax Claim on the Effective Date or as soon as reasonably practicable thereafter, or (ii) Cash, in equal 12 semi-annual installments and continuing over a period not exceeding five (5) years from and after the 13 Petition Date, together with interest accrued thereon at the applicable nonbankruptcy rate.

14 Based upon the foregoing, the Plan satisfies the requirements of section 1129(a)(9) of the 15 Bankruptcy Code.

16 J. Section 1129(a)(10): At Least One Class of Impaired Claims has Accepted the Plan

17 Section 1129(a)(10) of the Bankruptcy Code requires the affirmative acceptance of the Plan by 18 at least one class of impaired claims, “determined without including any acceptance of the plan by any 19 insider.” 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(10). As set forth above and in the Voting Certification, the ten Accepting 20 Classes are impaired and have voted to accept the Plan, excluding the acceptance of the Plan by any 21 insiders in such Classes. Accordingly, the Plan satisfies section 1129(a)(10) of the Bankruptcy Code.

22 K. Section 1129(a)(11): The Plan is Feasible

23 Section 1129(a)(11) of the Bankruptcy Code requires that the Court determine that the Plan is 24 feasible as a condition precedent to confirmation. Specifically, it requires that confirmation is not likely 25 to be followed by liquidation or the need for further financial reorganization of the Debtors or any 26 successor to the Debtors, unless such liquidation or reorganization is proposed in the plan. As described 27 below, the Plan is feasible within the meaning of this provision.

1           The feasibility test set forth in section 1129(a)(11) requires the Court to determine whether the 2 Plan is workable and has a reasonable likelihood of success. See Kane v. Johns–Manville Corp. (In re 3 Johns-Manville Corp.), 843 F.2d 636, 649 (2d Cir. 1988). The key element of feasibility is whether 4 there is a reasonable probability that the provisions of the plan can be performed. As noted by the United 5 States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit: “The purpose of section 1129(a)(11) is to prevent 6 confirmation of visionary schemes which promise creditors and equity security holders more under a 7 proposed plan than the Debtors can possibly attain after confirmation.” Pizza of Haw., Inc. v. Shakey’s, 8 Inc. (In re Pizza of Haw., Inc.), 761 F.2d 1374, 1382 (9th Cir. 1985) (quoting 5 Collier on Bankruptcy 9 ¶ 1129.02[11] at 1129–34 (15th ed. 1984)). However, just as speculative prospects of success cannot 10 sustain feasibility, speculative prospects of failure cannot defeat feasibility, and the mere prospect of 11 financial uncertainty cannot defeat confirmation on feasibility grounds. See In re U.S. Truck Co., 47 12 B.R. 932, 944 (E.D. Mich. 1985), aff’d, 800 F.2d 581 (6th Cir. 1986).

13                           1.       The Plan Provides Adequate Means to Satisfy Claims and Fulfill the 14                           Debtors’ Obligations Thereunder

15           For purposes of determining whether the Plan satisfies the above-described feasibility standards, 16 the Debtors have analyzed their ability to fulfill their obligations under the Plan. As part of this analysis, 17 the Debtors, with the assistance of their financial and other advisors, have (i) reviewed the various 18 Claims that have been filed in these Chapter 11 Cases that are to be satisfied under the Plan on and after 19 the Effective Date, and (ii) prepared the Financial Projections for the Debtors for the annual periods 20 from January 1, 2020 through December 31, 2024. Based on the Debtors’ review of the Claims filed in 21 these Chapter 11 Cases and their reasonable estimates, and based on a review of their books and records 22 as to their ultimate liability on account of these Claims, the Plan has adequate means to fulfill the 23 Debtors’ obligations thereunder.

24           The Financial Projections, in conjunction with the claims analysis and contemplated Plan 25 Financing Sources, demonstrate that, as set forth in the Confirmation Declaration, Ziman Declaration, 26 and Boken Declaration, all transactions and payments required pursuant to the Plan to be made by the 27 Reorganized Debtors will be made, and that the Reorganized Debtors will have sufficient capital and 28

1 liquidity to operate their business and satisfy ongoing obligations as they become due. See Confirmation 2 Declaration ¶¶ 69-71, Ziman Declaration ¶¶ 8-16, and Boken Declaration ¶¶ 6-16. As such, 3 confirmation of the Plan is not likely to be followed by liquidation or the need for further financial 4 reorganization and the Plan satisfies the feasibility requirement imposed by the Bankruptcy Code.

5 As set forth above and in the Plan, the Disclosure Statement, the Plan Supplement, and the Ziman 6 Declaration, the Plan Funding and Exit Financing to be utilized to fund and finance the Debtors' 7 emergence from chapter 11 is to come from a variety of potential sources, including reinstated bank and 8 bond debt, exchanges of certain of the Utility's prepetition debt for new debt, bank financings, bond 9 financings to be raised in the public markets, and the issuance of New HoldCo Common Stock or equity-10 linked securities either by way of a public marketed offering, private placement, Rights Offering, or by 11 relying on the Equity Backstop Commitment Letters approved by the Court.

12 As is customary, obtaining these sources of capital and the related commitments will require, 13 among other things, (i) appropriate authorizations and approvals to enter into the relevant documents
14 and agreements and to make filings and recordings as contemplated by the Plan Funding and Exit 15 Financing; and (ii) authorization to pay the fees and expenses, including the commitment fees, 16 associated therewith to ensure the availability of such capital and the Debtors' timely emergence from 17 chapter 11. See Ziman Declaration at ¶15. Accordingly, the Proposed Confirmation Order includes 18 customary provisions addressing these matters. Copies of the commitment letters that have not already 19 been approved will be filed with the Court under seal.

20 2. Legislative and Regulatory Feasibility

21 As discussed in greater detail in Section II below, the Plan is subject to review and approval by 22 the CPUC. As such, the Debtors have been diligently pursuing the necessary CPUC approvals in a 23 pending proceeding, and working cooperatively with the Governor's Office and other parties in interest 24 to ensure that the Plan is not just financially feasible, but feasible from a regulatory perspective.
25 Pursuant to AB 1054, the CPUC must (i) approve the Plan and other documents resolving the Utility's 26 Chapter 11 Case, including the resulting governance structure, as being acceptable in light of the 27 Utility's safety history, criminal probation, recent financial condition, and other factors deemed relevant 28

1 by the CPUC; (ii) determine that the Plan and other documents resolving the Chapter 11 Cases are (a)
2 consistent with the state’s climate goals as required pursuant to the California Renewables Portfolio 3 Standard Program and related procurement requirements of the state and (b) neutral, on average, to the 4 ratepayers of the Utility; and (iii) determine that the Plan and other documents resolving the Chapter 11 5 Cases recognize the contributions of ratepayers, if any, and compensate them accordingly through 6 mechanisms approved by the CPUC. As detailed below, the CPUC has issued a proposed decision 7 approving the Plan as being AB 1054 compliant, with a final vote on the proposed decision on May 28, 8 2020. As such, the Debtors submit that the Plan is feasible from a legislative and regulatory perspective.

9 In light of the above, the Plan satisfies the feasibility requirement imposed by section 10 1129(a)(11) of the Bankruptcy Code.

11 L. Section 1129(a)(12): All Statutory Fees Have Been or Will be Paid

12 Section 1129(a)(12) requires the payment of “[a]ll fees payable under section 1930 of title 28, 13 as determined by the court at the hearing on confirmation of the plan . . . .” 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(12).
14 Section 507 of the Bankruptcy Code provides that “any fees and charges assessed against the estate 15 under [section 1930] of title 28” are afforded priority as administrative expenses. 11 U.S.C. § 507(a)(2).
16 In accordance with sections 507 and 1129(a)(12) of the Bankruptcy Code, Section 12.5 of the Plan
17 provides that on the Effective Date, and thereafter as may be required, such fees, together with interest, 18 if any, shall be paid by each of the Debtors until the earliest to occur of the entry of (i) a final decree 19 closing such Debtor’s Chapter 11 Case, (ii) a Final Order converting such Debtor’s Chapter 11 Case to 20 a case under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code, or (iii) a Final Order dismissing such Debtor’s Chapter 21 11 Case. See Plan § 12.5.

22 M. Section 1129(a)(13): Continuation of Retiree Benefits

23 Section 1129(a)(13) requires that:

24 The plan provides for continuation after its effective date of payment of all 25 retiree benefits, as that term is defined in section 1114 of this title, at the 26 level established pursuant to section (e)(1)(B) or (g) of section 1114 of this 27 title, at any time prior to confirmation of the plan, for the duration of the 28 period the debtor has obligated itself to provide such benefits.

1 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(13). Pursuant to the Plan, all Employee Benefit Plans of the Debtors in effect as of 2 the Petition Date are deemed to be, and will be treated as, executory contracts under the Plan and, on 3 the Effective Date, shall be assumed pursuant to section 365 and 1123 of the Bankruptcy Code. See 4 Plan § 8.5. Accordingly, the Plan satisfies the requirements of section 1129(a)(13).

5 N. Sections 1129(a)(14), 1129(a)(15), and 1129(a)(16): Inapplicable Provisions

6 Section 1129(a)(14) of the Bankruptcy Code relates to the payment of domestic support 7 obligations. The Debtors are not subject to any domestic support obligations and, as such, section 8 1129(a)(14) does not apply. See Confirmation Declaration ¶ 74.

9 Section 1129(a)(15) of the Bankruptcy Code applies only in cases in which the debtor is an 10 “individual”. The Debtors are not “individuals” and, accordingly, section 1129(a)(15) is inapplicable.
11 See Id. ¶ 75.

12 Section 1129(a)(16) of the Bankruptcy Code applies to transfers of property by a corporation or 13 trust that is not a moneyed, business, or commercial corporation or trust. The Debtors are each a 14 moneyed, business, or commercial corporation and, accordingly, section 1129(a)(16) is inapplicable.
15 See Id. ¶ 76.

16 O. Section 1129(b): The Plan Satisfies the “Cram Down” Requirements with Respect
17 to Class 10A-II (HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims)

18 Section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code provides a mechanism (known colloquially as “cram 19 down”) for confirmation of a chapter 11 plan in circumstances where the plan is not accepted by all 20 impaired classes of claims. Under section 1129(b), the court may “cram down” a plan over the 21 dissenting vote of an impaired class or classes of claims or interests as long as the plan does not 22 “discriminate unfairly” and is “fair and equitable” with respect to such dissenting class or classes.
23 11 U.S.C. § 1129(b)(1).

24 By its express terms, section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code is only applicable to a class that 25 rejects a plan. See 11 U.S.C. § 1129(b)(1) (“[T]he court . . . shall confirm the plan notwithstanding the 26 requirements of [§ 1129(a)(8)] if the plan does not discriminate unfairly, and is fair and equitable, with

1 respect to each class of claims or interests that is impaired under, and has not accepted, the plan.”) 2 (emphasis added).

3 As discussed below in Section IV in response to the PERA Objection (defined below), the Plan
4 satisfies the requirements for “cram down” as to Class 10A-II and may be confirmed pursuant to section 5 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code.

6 P. Section 1129(c): The Plan is the Only Plan Currently on File

7 The Plan is the only plan currently on file in these Chapter 11 Cases and, accordingly, section 8 1129(c) of the Bankruptcy Code does not apply. See Confirmation Declaration ¶ 78.

9 Q. Section 1129(d): The Principal Purpose of the Plan is Not the Avoidance of Taxes

10 The principal purpose of the Plan is not the avoidance of taxes or the avoidance of section 5 of 11 the Securities Act of 1933, and no governmental unit has objected to confirmation of the Plan on any 12 such grounds. See Confirmation Declaration ¶ 79. The Plan, therefore, satisfies the requirements of 13 section 1129(d) of the Bankruptcy Code.

14 R. Section 1129(e): Inapplicable Provision

15 The provisions of section 1129(e) of the Bankruptcy Code apply only to “small business cases.”
16 These Chapter 11 Cases are not “small business cases” as defined in the Bankruptcy Code. Accordingly, 17 section 1129(e) of the Bankruptcy Code is inapplicable to these cases. See Confirmation Declaration 18 ¶ 80.

19 S. Section 1127: Modification of the Plan

20 Pursuant to section 1127 of the Bankruptcy Code, a plan proponent may modify a plan at any 21 time before confirmation so long as the plan, as modified, satisfies the requirements of sections 1122 22 and 1123 of the Bankruptcy Code and the proponent of the modification complies with section 1125 of 23 the Bankruptcy Code. In addition, with respect to modifications made after acceptance but prior to 24 confirmation of the plan, Bankruptcy Rule 3019 provides, in relevant part:

25 [A]fter a plan has been accepted and before its confirmation, the proponent 26 may file a modification of the plan. If the court finds after hearing on notice 27 to the trustee, any committee appointed under the Code, and any other entity 28 designated by the court that the proposed modification does not adversely change the treatment of the claim of any creditor or the interest of any equity

1 security holder who has not accepted in writing the modification, it shall be 2 deemed accepted by all creditors and equity security holders who have 3 previously accepted the plan.

4 Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3019(a).

5 As described above, the Debtors filed an amended Plan on May 22, 2020. The Plan, as modified, 6 complies with sections 1122 and 1123 of the Bankruptcy Code, and the Debtors have complied with 7 section 1125 of the Bankruptcy Code. Accordingly, the requirements of section 1127 have been 8 satisfied. Moreover, Bankruptcy Rule 3019 is satisfied because the modifications do not impact, let 9 alone materially impact, any creditor's or equity holder's treatment.

10 III. THE PLAN SATISFIES THE LEGISLATIVE AND REGULATORY 11 REQUIREMENTS FOR CONFIRMATION AND SHOULD BE APPROVED

12 A. AB 1054

13 On July 12, 2019, Governor Gavin Newsom signed into law AB 1054 (defined in the Plan as the 14 “Wildfire Legislation”),<sup>16</sup> which, among other things, establishes a statewide fund that participating 15 utilities may access to pay for liabilities arising in connection with future wildfires occurring after July 16 12, 2019 (the “Go-Forward Wildfire Fund”). The Wildfire Legislation also provides details regarding 17 the conditions to and costs of participating in the Go-Forward Wildfire Fund and sets the criteria by 18 which participating utilities can access the fund. The Utility provided notice to the CPUC of its intent 19 to participate in the Go-Forward Wildfire Fund, and on August 26, 2019, the Court issued an Order 20 [Docket No. 3689] authorizing the Debtors to participate in the Go-Forward Wildfire Fund.

21 Under AB 1054, to participate in the Go-Forward Wildfire Fund, the Utility must satisfy several 22 additional conditions. Upon emergence from chapter 11, the Utility must pay the initial and annual 23 contributions required for participation in the Go-Forward Wildfire Fund. Additionally, the Utility must 24 satisfy the following conditions by June 30, 2020:

- 25 (a) The [Utility's Chapter 11 Case] has been resolved pursuant to a plan or similar 26 document not subject to a stay.
 27 (b) The [B]ankruptcy [C]ourt or a court of competent jurisdiction, in the [Chapter 11 28 Cases], has determined that the resolution of the [Chapter 11 Case] provides <sup>16</sup> This summary is qualified in its entirety by the actual text of Assembly Bill 1054, codified in, inter alia, Cal. Pub. Util. Code §3292.

1 funding or establishes reserves for, provides for assumption of, or otherwise 2 provides for satisfying any prepetition wildfire claims asserted against the 3 [Utility] in the [Chapter 11 Cases] in the amounts agreed upon in any pre-4 insolvency proceeding settlement agreements or any post-insolvency settlement 5 agreements, authorized by the court through an estimation process or otherwise 6 allowed by the court.

7 (c) The [CPUC] has approved the reorganization plan and other documents resolving 8 the [Utility's Chapter 11 Cases], including the [Utility's] resulting governance 9 structure, as being acceptable in light of the [Utility's] safety history, criminal 10 probation, recent financial condition, and other factors deemed relevant by the 11 [CPUC].

12 (d) The [CPUC] has determined that the [Utility's] reorganization plan and other 13 documents resolving the [Chapter 11 Cases] are (i) consistent with the state's 14 climate goals as required pursuant to the California Renewables Portfolio 15 Standard Program and related procurement requirements of the state and 16 (ii) neutral, on average, to the ratepayers of the [Utility].

17 (e) The [CPUC] has determined that the reorganization plan and other documents 18 resolving the [Chapter 11 Cases] recognize the contributions of ratepayers, if any, 19 and compensate them accordingly through mechanisms approved by the [CPUC], 20 which may include sharing of value appreciation.

21 Cal. Pub. Util. Code § 3292(b)(1)(A)-(E).

22 As to item (b) above, the Plan provides funding for or otherwise provides for satisfying Fire 23 Claims asserted against the Debtors in the amounts agreed upon in the various Plan Settlements and 24 endorsed by holders of Fire Victim Claims through their overwhelming acceptance of the Plan. As set 25 forth above and in the Plan, Fire Claims fall into the following categories, each to be treated under the 26 Plan in compliance with AB 1054:

- 27 • Public Entity Wildfire Claims, which are to be settled and treated under the Plan 28 in accordance with the Public Entities Settlement and the acceptance of the Plan by Classes 5A-I and 5B-I;
- Subrogation Wildfire Claims, which are to be settled and treated under the Plan in accordance with the Court-approved Subrogation Claims RSA and related settlement agreement and the acceptance of the Plan by Classes 5A-II and 5B-II;
- Fire Victim Claims, which are to be channeled to the Fire Victim Trust and treated under Plan in accordance with the Court-approved Tort Claimants RSA and the acceptance of the Plan by Classes 5A-III and 5B-III; and
- Subrogation Butte Fire Claims and other Fire Claims that are Prepetition Executed Settlement Claims, which, pursuant to the Plan, shall be Allowed in the 1 amount set forth in the applicable award, agreement or settlement and paid in full.

2 See Plan § 1.159.

3 Therefore, this Court can and should determine in connection with confirmation of the Plan, that 4 the Plan provides for satisfying any prepetition wildfire claims asserted against the Utility in the Chapter 5 11 Cases in the amounts agreed upon in any pre-insolvency proceeding settlement agreements or any 6 post-insolvency settlement agreements, authorized by the Court through an estimation process or 7 otherwise allowed by the Court in compliance with AB 1054.

8 B. CPUC Approval

9 In light of the conditions set forth in AB 1054 and the regulatory approvals the Utility must 10 obtain prior to, or as part of and in connection with confirmation or the effectiveness of the Plan and 11 with respect to participation in the Go-Forward Wildfire Fund, the CPUC commenced Investigation (I.)
12 19-09-016, Order Instituting Investigation on the Plan (the “Plan OII”), on October 4, 2019, to consider 13 the ratemaking and other implications that will result from the confirmation the Plan and other regulatory 14 approvals necessary to resolve the Chapter 11 Cases.

15 On April 20, 2020, the Administrative Law Judge issued a proposed CPUC decision approving 16 the Plan, including as being in compliance with AB 1054, with certain conditions and modifications, 17 and on May 19, 2020 the CPUC issued a revised proposed decision also approving the Plan, including 18 as being in compliance with AB 1054, with certain conditions and modifications (the “Proposed Plan 19 OII Decision”). The Proposed Plan OII Decision determines (i) that the Plan and other documents 20 resolving the Chapter 11 Cases are (a) consistent with the state’s climate goals as required pursuant to 21 the California Renewables Portfolio Standard Program and related procurement requirements of the state
22 and (b) neutral, on average, to the ratepayers of the Utility; and (ii) that the Plan and other documents 23 resolving the Chapter 11 Cases recognize the contributions of ratepayers, if any, and compensate them
24 accordingly, each as required pursuant to AB 1054. Additionally, the Proposed Plan OII Decision 25 determines that the Utility’s executive compensation plan, as modified by the Proposed Plan OII 26 Decision, conditionally satisfies the requirements of Public Utilities Code Section 8389(e)(6)(C). The 27 Proposed Plan OII Decision also sets forth certain other compliance obligations of the Utility, with 28

1 which the Utility will comply to the extent the CPUC decision adopts those aspects of the Proposed Plan 2 OII Decision.

3 On May 11, 2020, the Debtors filed comments on the Proposed Plan OII Decision proposing
4 certain modifications and clarifications, while generally supporting its approval of the Plan. The CPUC 5 is expected to consider the Proposed Plan OII Decision at its May 28, 2020 Business Meeting. Although 6 the CPUC has not yet adopted the Proposed Plan OII Decision and, as such, it currently has no legal 7 effect, the Debtors are confident that the CPUC will adopt a decision approving the Plan, complete with 8 all findings required under AB 1054, well in advance of the June 30, 2020 deadline imposed by AB 9 1054. For these reasons, subject to the CPUC's scheduled vote on the Proposed Plan OII Decision on 10 May 28, 2020, the Plan is compliant with AB 1054 and satisfies all applicable legislative and regulatory 11 requirements and should be confirmed.

12 IV. THE UNRESOLVED OBJECTIONS TO CONFIRMATION OF THE PLAN SHOULD 13 BE OVERRULED

14 The Plan Proponents have worked diligently both prior to and after the Plan Objection Deadline 15 to discuss the various issues or concerns raised by parties in interest, either informally or through filed 16 objections to confirmation (collectively, the “Objections” and the parties filing such Objections, 17 the “Objectors”), with regard to confirmation of the Plan. As a result of these efforts, the Plan 18 Proponents were able, through revisions to the Plan and the Proposed Confirmation Order, to fully 19 resolve some of the Objections and significantly narrow the scope of many of the others that remain 20 outstanding.

21 Notwithstanding the Plan Proponents' best efforts to resolve all of the Objectors' issues with the 22 Plan and Proposed Confirmation Order, certain issues remain outstanding. Accordingly, in this Section, 23 the Plan Proponents will address, in turn, the Objections filed by (i) the Tort Claimants Committee
24 [Docket No. 7306] (the “TCC Objection”), (ii) the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors 25 (the “UCC”) [Docket No. 7300] (the “UCC Objection”), (iii) PERA [Docket No. 7296] (the “PERA
26 Objection”), and (iv) the assertion raised in various Objections that the Plan “impairs” unimpaired 27 Classes. Additionally, attached hereto as Exhibit A, and fully incorporated herein by reference, is a 28

1 chart (the “Objection Summary Chart”) summarizing (i) each of the Objections and (ii) the Plan 2 Proponents’ responses thereto.

3 A. The TCC Objection Should Be Overruled

4 Distilled to its essentials and as expressly acknowledged in the TCC Objection, the Tort 5 Claimants Committee’s objection relates solely to the following five (5) matters:

- 6 1. The Schedule of Assigned Rights and Causes of Action (the “Schedule of Assigned 7 Claims”) that are to be assigned to the Fire Victim Trust pursuant to the Plan is inaccurate and does not conform to the Plan;
- 8 2. The Debtors’ Schedule of Retained Rights and Causes of Action (the “Schedule of 9 Retained Claims”) appears to retain claims that fall within the scope of claims that should be included in the Schedule of Assigned Claims;
- 10 3. The Registration Rights Agreement being negotiated should apply equal registration 11 rights and lock-up terms to both the Fire Victim Trust and the Equity Backstop Parties;
- 12 4. The calculation of Normalized Estimated Net Income for 2021 under the Plan that is 13 part of the determination of how much Reorganized PG&E stock is transferred to the 14 Fire Victim Trust has not been agreed upon; and
- 15 5. The definition of “Subrogation Wildfire Claim” under the Plan must be changed if 16 the Court does not approve the insurance set off language in the Fire Victim Trust Agreement.

17 TCC Objection at pp 2, 30-31, Exhibit 2.

18 As an initial matter and as the Debtors advised the Court at the May 19, 2020 status conference, 19 all of the foregoing objections are the subject of ongoing mediation before former Bankruptcy Judge 20 Newsome. The Plan Proponents are optimistic that the Tort Claimants Committee’s objections either 21 will be resolved or substantially narrowed prior to the commencement of the Confirmation Hearing.

22 Nevertheless, the Plan Proponents will briefly address each of the objections listed above.

23 1. Schedule of Assigned Claims. The Plan Proponents believe that their schedule 24 accurately reflects the intent and purpose of the Tort Claimants RSA. The Debtors, as well as others, 25 have noted a concern with the Tort Claimants Committee and the Fire Victim Trust suing the Debtors’ 26 vendors and business partners, many of which are critical to the Debtors’ ongoing vegetation 27 management and other safety related measures. In view of the fact that the Assigned Rights and Causes 28

1 of Action are not a material element of the consideration to be transferred to the Fire Victim Trust, the 2 Debtors believe it is appropriate to address these vendor and contractor concerns.

3           2.     Schedule of Retained Claims. The Debtors do not believe there are any retained 4 claims that fall within the scope of the claims to be assigned to the Fire Victim Trust.

5           3.     Registration Rights Agreement. As an initial matter, it is important to recognize that 6 neither the Tort Claimants RSA nor the Plan, which has now been overwhelmingly accepted by the Fire
7 Victims, require that the Registration Rights Agreement be acceptable to the Tort Claimants Committee 8 or that it provide for equal registration rights and lock-up terms to both the Fire Victim Trust and the 9 Equity Backstop Parties. Rather, each provide for “reasonable registration rights consistent with the 10 recommendations of the Debtors’ equity underwriter and tax rules and regulations.” Plan Section 1.6.

11           The Tort Claimants Committee asserts that according to the publicly available registration rights 12 agreements precedents collected and surveyed, “market practice” is that “lock-up provisions are applied 13 on equal terms to all shareholders who are getting registration rights”. TCC Objection IV.B.1. However, 14 the factual circumstances in the precedents relied upon for this assertion, as specified in the Declaration 15 of Brent Williams, are not analogous to this proceeding. In each of the seven precedents relied on by the 16 Tort Claimants Committee, each of the shareholders party to the applicable registration rights 17 agreements were similarly situated investors or creditors. In five of seven of the precedents, the 18 shareholders were all members of the same class of claimants; in the other two precedents, the 19 shareholders were all investment fund entities purchasing equity to provide exit financing for the 20 respective debtors. In our case, the Equity Backstop Parties and the Fire Victim Trust are not similarly 21 situated, and the nature of the Equity Backstop Parties’ investments and the Fire Victims Trust’s 22 settlement are fundamentally different. After giving effect to the Plan, and in settlement of its claims, 23 the Fire Victim Trust is to receive a minimum 20.9% ownership interest in Reorganized HoldCo. In 24 contrast, even assuming the commitments under the Equity Backstop Commitment Letters are fully 25 drawn, none of the Equity Backstop Parties are expected to own more than 10% of the outstanding 26 shares of Reorganized HoldCo (the vast majority being expected to own less than 2%). And, 27 significantly, the contractual obligations of the Debtors to provide registration rights to the Fire Victim 28

1 Trust and the Backstop Parties, respectively, are dissimilar, as previously noted. As such, the precedents
2 cited by the Tort Claimants Committee in the TCC Objection are not relevant to establish “market 3 practice” with respect to this issue, as the circumstances here are entirely different from the “market” 4 surveyed by the Tort Claimants Committee.

5 The Registration Rights Agreement that has been proposed to the Tort Claimants Committee is 6 consistent with the recommendations of the Debtors’ equity underwriter. See Ziman Declaration at ¶ 17.
7 That said, negotiations with respect to that agreement continue. Again, the Debtors are optimistic that 8 a resolution will be reached, but if not, the TCC Objection on this matter should be overruled.

9 4. Normalized Estimated Net Income. Under the express terms of the Plan, Normalized 10 Estimated Net Income (“NENI”) is to be determined based on various components tied to the Debtors’ 11 2021 projected operations. Plan Section 1.143. Neither the Tort Claimants RSA nor the Plan give the 12 Tort Claimants Committee any right to contest the calculation of NENI, and an agreed upon calculation
13 certainly is not a condition to confirmation. NENI is the Debtors’ estimate, which is the same estimate 14 to be used for purposes of various calculations under the Backstop Commitment Letters. This is part of 15 the treatment overwhelmingly accepted by the holders of Fire Victim Claims and there is no reason to 16 revisit this issue.

17 5. Definition of Subrogation Wildfire Claim. This matter has already been addressed 18 by the Court and resolved in connection with the Disclosure Statement hearing and there is no need to 19 revisit it. The Plan Proponents understand that this objection will be addressed again in a pleading to 20 be filed by the Ad Hoc Subrogation Claimants and, if this Court approves the Tort Claimant Committee’s 21 draft of the Fire Victim Trust Agreement and Fire Victim Claims Resolution Procedures, the objection 22 will be moot.

23 As stated, mediation is ongoing. To the extent any of the Tort Claimants Committee’s objections 24 remain after that process has been concluded, they should be overruled. Simply stated, the Tort 25 Claimants Committee’s objections should not be permitted to frustrate what its constituency 26 overwhelmingly supports.

B. The UCC Objection Should Be Overruled

In its Objection, the UCC argues that the Plan impairs General Unsecured Claims—which are to be paid in full on the Effective Date, with postpetition interest—in various ways. First, the UCC argues that Section 10.3 of the Plan, which requires claimants to release, discharge, and waive all “Claims, Interests, rights, and liabilities” against the Debtors that arose prior to the Effective Date, expands section 1141 of the Bankruptcy Code because that section “only refers to discharge, not to a ‘waiver’ or ‘release.’” UCC Objection ¶ 7 [Docket No. 7300]. Second, it asserts that the Plan impairs general unsecured claimants by providing, in Paragraph 13 of the executory contract Cure Notice, for a release of contingent pre-petition indemnification obligations arising under assumed executory contracts. Id. ¶¶ 9–11. Third, it contends that these releases will somehow prevent vendors and other creditors from asserting rights and defenses against Assigned Claims and Assigned Causes of Action prosecuted by the Fire Victim Trust. Id. ¶¶ 19-26. Additionally, the UCC raises eight other discrete Plan issues (the “Remaining Plan Issues”), many of which have been resolved. See id. ¶¶ 29-48. The unresolved Remaining Plan Issues, and the Plan Proponents’ responses thereto, are summarized in the Objection Summary Chart.<sup>17</sup>

The impairment related objections are addressed below but, as a threshold matter, the UCC fails to apprehend that General Unsecured Claims are not impaired by the Plan. As shown below, any impact on creditors’ rights is the result of operation of the Bankruptcy Code or non-bankruptcy law. As now well established in these Cases, impairment by the Code or operative law is not “impairment” within the meaning of section 1124 of the Bankruptcy Code. “[I]mpairment results from what a plan does, not from what a statute does.” In re PG&E Corp., 610 B.R. 308 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2019) (emphasis supplied) (quoting In re Am. Solar King Corp., 90 B.R. 808, 819-820 (Bankr. W.D. <sup>17</sup> A number of parties, including several who are counterparties to executory contracts, have either joined in the UCC’s objections or raised objections that are also propounded by the UCC. The arguments set forth here respond to all of those objections. Any Objection not addressed herein is addressed in the Objection Summary Chart.

1 HSG, 2020 WL 1865135, at *7 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 14, 2020) (“[T]here is no impairment where the 2 Bankruptcy Code—and not the Debtors’ Plan—modifies alleged non-bankruptcy contractual rights.”).
3 Accordingly, because the thrust of the UCC’s Objection is predicated on the incorrect notion that the 4 Plan, rather than the Bankruptcy Code or non-bankruptcy law, is the cause of any impact on the rights 5 of General Unsecured Creditors, the UCC’s Objection should be overruled.

6 1. Section 10.3 Does Not Impermissibly Expand Section 1141 of the 7 Bankruptcy Code

8 The UCC, and others, first argue that Section 10.3 of the Plan impermissibly expands the scope 9 of section 1141 of the Bankruptcy Code. See UCC Obj. ¶¶ 5-7. The UCC is seeing ghosts here. The 10 Debtors are not asking unsecured creditors to provide a “general release.” The Plan simply confirms 11 that all prepetition claims that have been—or could have been—asserted against the Debtors through 12 the Effective Date will be discharged upon the occurrence of the Effective Date by operation of the 13 Bankruptcy Code “unless otherwise expressly provided in the [Plan].” Such a discharge means the claim 14 is gone forever, whether a plan calls this a discharge, a release or something else. This is not a new 15 concept, as the entire purpose of restructuring is to discharge claims. The language at issue in Section 16 10.3 of the Plan is expressly limited “to the fullest extent permitted by section 1141”—as the UCC 17 concedes. Section 10.3’s language is identical or nearly identical to language routinely approved in 18 other chapter 11 cases, including by this Court. See, e.g., In re Blue Earth, Inc., No. 16-30296-DM, 19 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. July 19, 2016) (Montali, J.) [Docket No. 259], at Ex. A (“Except as provided in the 20 Bankruptcy Code, Plan, or the Confirmation Order, the rights afforded under the Plan and the treatment 21 of Claims and Interests under the Plan shall discharge and release of [sic] all Claims and Interests arising 22 or existing on or before the Effective Date”); In re Newzoom, Inc., No. 15-31141 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. Dec.

24 distributions, rights, and treatment that are provided in the Plan shall be in complete satisfaction, 25 discharge, and release, effective as of the Effective Date, of Claims, Interests, and Causes of Action of 26 any nature whatsoever, including any interest accrued from and after the Petition Date, whether known

 3 of a Claim or Existing BBEP Equity Interest and any affiliate of such holder shall be deemed to have 4 forever waived, released, and discharged the Debtors, to the fullest extent permitted by section 1141 of 5 the Bankruptcy Code, of and from any and all Claims, Existing BBEP Equity Interests, rights, and 6 liabilities that arose prior to the Effective Date.”); In re AMR Corp., No. 11-15463 (SHL), (Bankr.
 7 S.D.N.Y. Oct. 22, 2013) [Docket No. 10367] at ¶ 62 (“Upon the Effective Date and in consideration of 8 the distributions to be made under the Plan, except as otherwise expressly provided in the Plan, each 9 holder (as well as any representatives, trustees, or agents on behalf of each holder) of a Claim or Equity 10 Interest and any affiliate of such holder shall be deemed to have forever waived, released, and 11 discharged the Debtors, to the fullest extent permitted by section 1141 of the Bankruptcy Code, of and 12 from any and all Claims, Equity Interests, rights, and liabilities that arose prior to the Effective Date.”) 13 (emphasis added throughout). And, the Plan clearly and expressly provides for the payment in full of 14 all Administrative Expense Claims.

15 For the avoidance of doubt, the Plan does not and is not intended to deprive any unimpaired 16 claimant of rights or defenses—including setoff or recoupment—to the extent they exist under 17 applicable law. Nor does the Plan release any claims a claimant may have against a third party unless a 18 claimant voluntarily opts into the third party release. What the discharge in Section 10.3 of the Plan 19 does properly preclude is a claimant seeking to recover on a prepetition claim for which it did not file a 20 proof of claim or a claim that the Bankruptcy Code disallows.

21 2. Plan Treatment Does Not Impair Contingent Prepetition Indemnification
 22 and Contribution Claims

23 (a) The Code Requires Holders of Contingent and Unliquidated 24 Indemnification and Contribution Claimants to File Proofs of Claim.

25 The UCC also contends that the Plan impairs general unsecured claimants by providing for a 26 release of contingent prepetition indemnification obligations arising under assumed executory contracts.
 27 UCC Obj. ¶¶ 9-11. This confuses impairment with the appropriate cure in the context of an assumed 28 contract (which, as noted above, is subject to a separate, ongoing dispute resolution process). To the

1 extent the UCC is referring to claims not arising under an assumed contract, it is attempting to bootstrap 2 unimpairment into reinstatement.

3 “An unsecured creditor . . . must file a proof of claim or interest for the claim or interest to be 4 allowed.” In re Landmark Fence Co., Inc., No. EDCV 16-1538 JGB, 2018 WL 4735709, at *9 (C.D.
5 Cal. Sept. 28, 2018) (quoting Fed. R. Bankr. P 3002(a)) aff’d, No. 18-56355, 2020 WL 2188733 (9th
6 Cir. May 6, 2020); see 11 U.S.C. 502(a). In particular, Section 502(b) requires the filing of a timely 7 proof of claim where “a claimant can fairly or reasonably contemplate the claim’s existence even if a 8 cause of action has not yet accrued under nonbankruptcy law.” In re SNTL Corp., 571 F.3d 826, 839 9 (9th Cir. 2009); In re THC Fin. Corp., 686 F.2d 799, 804 (9th Cir. 1982) (affirming order barring 10 contingent claim as untimely filed). Thus, any creditor who failed to file a proof of claim for contingent 11 indemnification or contribution against the Debtors will have that claim discharged by operation of the 12 Bankruptcy Code.

13 Indeed, it is well established that section 502 bars a creditor from recovering on a non-contractual 14 indemnification or contribution claim arising from prepetition events where the creditor could 15 reasonably foresee a potential claim for indemnification or contribution from the Debtors. See In re
16 Media Vision Tech., Inc., No. 94-45107-J, 1997 WL 102469, at *7 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 27, 1997) (creditor 17 required to file a proof of claim because it “should have at a minimum fairly contemplated being sued 18 by others such that it would have claims for contribution and indemnity”); In re Lombard Flats, LLC, 19 No. 15-CV-00870-PJH, 2016 WL 1161593, at *9 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 23, 2016) (“Because the factual 20 allegations . . . predate the bankruptcy petition, [creditor’s claim] was fairly contemplated prepetition 21 and is subject to the discharge injunction.”).

22 Likewise, a timely proof of claim is required for a contractual indemnification claim where 23 contingent indemnification or contribution remains the sole outstanding performance obligation of the 24 Debtors,<sup>18</sup> because the claim arises when the indemnification agreement is executed, not when the

25 <sup>18</sup> Section 365 governs the assumption and rejection of executory contracts. An indemnification 26 agreement is not an executory contract where the debtor’s only remaining obligation is to indemnify the 27 nondebtor. See In re THC Financial Corporation, 686 F.2d 799, 804 (9th Cir. 1982) (“contracts that 28 only require[] payment by the debtor are not executory”). Material unperformed obligations must remain for both parties for a contract to be executory. See In re Qintex Entm’t, Inc., 950 F.2d 1492,

3 553, 564 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 2012) (same) (citing In re THC, 686 F.2d at 803–4). “It makes no difference 4 that the duty to indemnify [accrued] after the petition was filed . . . ; the critical fact is that the claim for 5 indemnity arose [pre-petition].” In re Christian Life Ctr., 821 F.2d 1370, 1374 (9th Cir. 1987). See also 6 In re Huff Corp., 424 B.R. 295, 305–6 (Bankr. S.D. Ohio 2010) (surveying cases to find courts “almost 7 universally h[o]ld that a contractual right to indemnification is a prepetition contingent claim if the 8 contract was executed before the bankruptcy filing”). Courts within the Ninth Circuit reason that, for 9 contingent indemnification claims in particular, “[i]t is within the fair contemplation of parties entering 10 into a contract that the other party may breach it . . . . Thus, a contingent claim arises at that point in 11 time [of contract execution], although it may never mature.” In re Hassanally, 208 B.R. 46, 53 (B.A.P.
12 9th Cir. 1997) (quoting In re Russell, 193 B.R. 568, 571 (Bankr. S.D. Cal. 1996)). As a result, where a 13 counterparty has failed to timely file a proof of claim for contingent indemnity, or any contingent 14 contractual claim, such a claim is disallowed by operation of section 502, not by the Plan.

15 Thus, for any common law contingent indemnification or contribution claims and any non-16 executory contract-based indemnification or contribution claims, a creditor who has failed to file a proof
17 of claim for such contingent indemnification or contribution claims against the Debtors will not recover 18 under the Plan by operation of the Bankruptcy Code. Consequently, if any of the parties objecting to 19 the Plan’s treatment of their prepetition indemnity or contribution claims have failed to file a proof of 20 claim with respect to such a claim, with the exception of any party whose contract the Debtors are 21 assuming, the Plan properly discharges any and all of their alleged rights of indemnity or contribution.

22 The fact that the Plan applies this textbook bankruptcy law does not constitute impairment.

23 (b) The Disallowance of Claims Under Section 502(e) of the Bankruptcy 24 Code Does Not Constitute Impairment.

25 Even if a claimant has filed a proof of claim asserting a contingent claim for indemnification or 26 contribution, Bankruptcy Code section 502(e)(1)(B) specifically disallows any such claim for which the 27 1495 (9th Cir. 1991). Thus, the Plan does not impair a claim by treating it as a prepetition contingent 28 claim subject to discharge where payment by the Debtors is the only performance outstanding.

1 Debtors are conceivably co-liable with the claimant. See In re Hexcel Corp., 174 B.R. 807, 811 (Bankr.
 2 N.D. Cal. 1994); In re Dant & Russell, Inc., 951 F.2d 246, 248 (9th Cir. 1991); In re Touch Am.
 3 Holdings, Inc., 381 B.R. 95, 107 (Bankr. D. Del. 2008) (“Courts have consistently held that ‘the concept 4 of reimbursement includes indemnity.’”). Thus, if a party is “co-liable” with the Debtors, it is the 5 Code—not the Plan—that eliminates the party’s right to receive indemnification or contribution from 6 the Debtors. By incorporating the Bankruptcy Code’s disallowances under section 502(e)(1)(B), the 7 Plan does not impair these contingent indemnification and contribution claims, and instead merely 8 acknowledges what has already been done by operation of the Bankruptcy Code. See In re PG&E Corp., 9 610 B.R. at 315; In re PPI Enters. (U.S.), Inc., 324 F.3d at 205.

10 Additionally, under California Civil Procedure Code § 877, the Debtors are not liable to any joint 11 tortfeasor for contribution or indemnity where the Debtors have settled a tort claim in good faith. See 12 Abu-Assal v. Abu-Assal, No. EDCV01153GAFSGLX, 2008 WL 11336612, at *3, *6 (C.D. Cal. Aug.
 13 22, 2008); Tech-Bilt, Inc. v. Woodward-Clyde & Assocs., 38 Cal. 3d 488, 499 (1985). Considering the 14 Debtors’ clear record of good-faith settlement with Fire Victim Claimants, a creditor seeking non-15 contractual indemnification or contribution from the Debtors on account of a wildfire-related claim that 16 may be asserted against it would not be entitled to recover against the Debtors even if section 502(e) 17 were found not to be applicable. The Debtors’ invocation of California law to preclude these types of 18 claims is no more an impairment by the Plan than the Bankruptcy Code provisions that this Court has 19 already held cannot constitute impairment.<sup>19</sup>

20 (c) The Bankruptcy Code’s Effect on Executory Contract Contingent 21 Indemnity and Contribution Claims Does Not Constitute 22 Impairment.

23 The UCC and certain contractors assert that Paragraph 13 of the Debtors’ Cure Notice impairs 24 contractors by releasing contingent prepetition indemnification obligations arising under assumed

25 <sup>19</sup> The UCC objects that the Bankruptcy Court cannot approve the Debtors’ settlement with the Tort 26 Claimants Committee (which it already has) because the settlement will impair the UCC by “triggering” 27 California Civil Code § 877. But section 877 strips the joint tortfeasor of the right to contribution or 28 indemnification as a matter of state law, not the Plan. The settlement thus does not impair the general unsecured creditors.

1 executory contracts. See, e.g., UCC Obj. ¶ 26 [Docket No. 7300]; Davey Tree Obj. ¶ 2 [Docket No.
2 7304]. The Plan, however, merely recognizes that contingent indemnity claims are not permitted under 3 the Bankruptcy Code. The Plan itself does not alter any such rights.

4 Section 365 of the Bankruptcy Code requires that where the Debtors assume an executory 5 contract, they assume an “executory contract as a whole,” subject to both its benefits and its burdens.
6 See Energy Consulting & Mgmt. Sols., LLC v. W. States Equip. Co., 574 F. App’x 763, 765 (9th Cir.
7 2014); NLRB v. Bildisco, 465 U.S. 513, 531 (1984). Consistent with section 365, the Debtors do not 8 seek to cherry-pick provisions but rather are assuming specific executory contracts in their entirety.
9 Consequently, where an executory contract that the Debtors assume contains provisions requiring that 10 the Debtors indemnify the counterparty, such indemnification provisions will be assumed by the Debtors 11 along with the rest of the contract, to be given full legal effect for all postpetition obligations subject to 12 whatever defenses the Debtors may have under non-bankruptcy law going forward.

13 Section 365 does not, however, bar the operation of other provisions of the Code or otherwise
14 applicable nonbankruptcy law. See, e.g., In re Sawtooth Enters., Inc., No. 96-03050, 1999 WL

<sup>20</sup> Contrary to the UCC’s and Osmose Utility Service Inc.’s assertions, see UCC Objection [Docket No. 7300] at 2 ¶ 2, Osmose Objection [Docket No. 7320] at 6 ¶ 18, a Plan need not explicitly state that all rights of General Unsecured Claims holders “ride through” the bankruptcy unaffected to be unimpaired, nor must the Plan assume an executory contract and permit it to “ride through” the bankruptcy unaffected. See In re Puchi Properties Inc., 601 B.R. 677, 685 n.6 (Bankr. D. Ariz. 2019); In re Hernandez, 287 B.R. 795, 800 (Bankr. D. Ariz. 2002). Indeed, assumption does not mean—and specifically precludes—that a contract “rides through” bankruptcy. See In re JZ L.L.C., 371 B.R. 412, 422-24 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2007) (holding that under Section 365 the “basic approach[es] of assumption . . . and ‘ride through’ [are] alternatives” (citing NLRB v. Bildisco, 465 U.S. at 546 n.12)). Further, to the extent that the UCC refers to preserving rights that otherwise would be curtailed by the operation of the Code or non-bankruptcy law, providing for such rights to “ride through” the bankruptcy unaffected would impair them by granting rights not available otherwise under the Bankruptcy Code and applicable law. See In re L & J Anaheim Assocs., 995 F.2d 940, 942 (9th Cir. 1993).

1           Upon assumption, both the Bankruptcy Code and nonbankruptcy law have a role in determining 2 the extent of default to be cured in order for an executory contract to be assumed. Therefore, in 3 determining the cure that may be owed to a counterparty on assumption of their executory contract, the 4 Debtors may rely on section 502(e) to assert that prepetition claims based on contingent indemnity or 5 contribution rights are not properly part of the assumed obligations or cure requirement. Thus, again, it 6 is the legal effect of section 502(e)(1)(B) of the Bankruptcy Code, and not the Plan, that impacts the 7 Debtors' obligations for prepetition claims based on contingent indemnity or contribution claims in the 8 context of an executory contract assumption.<sup>21</sup>

9           Assumption and cure are also subject to state law and the Debtors' defenses thereunder.
10 Concerning vegetation management and utility services in particular, California Civil Code § 2782, in 11 conjunction with sections 2772 and 2783, prohibits certain categories of indemnification claims arising 12 under electrical power line clearing, tree trimming, and other qualifying construction contracts, 13 rendering such contractual indemnity provisions unenforceable under state law, independent of Section 14 365.<sup>22</sup> The Debtors' election to assume an executory contract under section of 365 of the Bankruptcy

18 and Matter of SteelShip Corp., 576 F.2d 128, 132 (8th Cir. 1978) for the assertion that when a contract 19 is assumed, "the debtor must perform in full, just as if the bankruptcy had not intervened." See 20 Municipal Objectors' Objection at 19 [Docket No. 7231]. That statement, however, is rooted in an 21 outdated edition of Collier on Bankruptcy, in which the treatise commented on section 70b of the 22 Bankruptcy Act, not the Bankruptcy Code. See In re Klein Sleep Prod., Inc., 78 F.3d 18, 28 (2d Cir.
23 1996). The cases cited by the Municipal Objectors do not stand for the premise that an assumed contract 24 must be treated as though a bankruptcy never occurred at all, only for the uncontroversial proposition
25 that a contract's burdens must be assumed along with its benefits. While the Debtors may have future 26 performance obligations under an assumed contract, this does not mean that prepetition contingent 27 indemnification claims are not subject to treatment under the Code, which clearly disallows contingent 28 indemnification claims in which the Debtors may be co-liable.

Construction LLC [Docket No. 7236], and others, contended in cure objections that their contracts with the Debtors had terminated prior to the Petition Date, and therefore were erroneously listed in the Assumption Schedule, but nonetheless reserved their rights to contest the availability of indemnification claims under any contracts found to be executory. The Debtors, upon further review, have determined that they agree with these parties that their contracts were previously terminated and are not executory.
In any case, however, these indemnification rights would be nullified subject to operation of the Code and state law as described above.

1 Code in no way cancels the effects of state law on enforcement of contractual provisions. To the 2 contrary, such contracts are assumed in their entirety and subject to their burdens.

3 3. The Plan Does Not Prejudice Vendors and Other Creditors with Respect to 4 Assigned Claims and Causes of Action Assigned to the Fire Victims Trust

5 The UCC and others also claim that Section 10.3 of the Plan and Paragraph 13 of the Cure Notice 6 prejudice vendors and other unsecured creditors by depriving them of rights and defenses (including the 7 alleged right to seek indemnification from the Debtors) as relates to the claims that will be assigned to 8 the Fire Victim Trust. See UCC Obj. ¶¶ 19-26 [Docket No. 7300]. That is not correct. The Assigned 9 Claims are claims that the Debtors could have asserted in their own right. Whatever rights and defenses 10 vendors and other defendants might have had against the Debtors are preserved and remain available as 11 rights and defenses vis-à-vis the Fire Victim Trust.

12 Note, however, that a vendor could never have a claim against the Debtors for indemnification 13 or contribution as relates to a claim the Debtors may have pursued against the vendor. For example, if 14 the Debtors sued a vendor claiming that the vendor owed the Debtors money for breach of contract and 15 the Debtors won, the vendor would not be entitled to indemnity from the Debtors on the very claim the 16 Debtors just won. That would make no sense. Yet that is exactly what the UCC and vendors are 17 claiming they are losing the right to assert. To be sure, the vendors can assert whatever defenses they 18 have to such a claim, but one of those defenses, and one of those rights if they lose, is not 19 indemnification. Thus, the assignment of the Debtors' claims to the Fire Victim Trust changes nothing.

20 With respect to any "direct" claims that a third party may have against a vendor that is not derived 21 from an assignment from the Debtors, nothing in the Plan prevents the vendor from defending itself and 22 asserting whatever rights it believes it has against the plaintiff in that action. What the vendor cannot 23 do is seek indemnity or contribution from the Debtors if the vendor loses an action predicated on 24 prepetition conduct. Those claims are expressly disallowed by section 502(e), as discussed above, and 25 may also be precluded under California Civil Procedure Code § 877. In sum, nothing in the Plan's 26 assignment of Assigned Claims to the Fire Victim Trust operates to impair or prejudice the rights of the 27 vendors or others who may be subject to suit on account of the Assigned Claims.

2                   1.     The Plan Treats HoldCo Rescission Or Damage Claims Properly

3           The HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims are claims for damages arising from alleged violation 4 of securities laws in connection with purchases of PG&E’s common stock from April 29, 2015 through 5 November 15, 2018 (the “Class Period”). According to the putative class action complaint filed by 6 PERA, PG&E’s alleged “false and misleading statements” regarding wildfire risks “caused PG&E 7 [equity] securities to trade at artificially inflated levels.” Third Amended Consolidated Class Action
8 Complaint For Violation Of The Federal Securities Laws (“TAC”) ¶ 321. See Adv. Proc. No. 19-03039, 9 Docket No. 3-1. The premise of the complaint is that “PERA purchased securities of PG&E at 10 artificially inflated prices during the Class Period and was damaged as the result,” TAC ¶ 41, and that 11 “purchasers of PG&E securities during the Class Period suffered similar injury because of their 12 purchases of securities at artificially inflated prices.” TAC ¶ 461.

13           PERA concedes that the HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims are subject to mandatory 14 subordination under section 510(b) of the Bankruptcy Code. PERA Obj. at 4, 11. Section 510(b)
15 provides that claims such as the HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims, if allowed,<sup>23</sup> “ha[ve] the same 16 priority as common stock.” 11 U.S.C. § 510(b) (subordinating claims “for damages arising from the 17 purchase or sale of” a security of the debtor). PERA thus agrees that, as a result, holders of Allowed 18 HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims, if any, must share proportionally with PG&E’s common 19 shareholders. PERA Obj. at 11 (“Section 510(b) of the Bankruptcy Code mandates pari passu treatment
20 between common stock in PG&E Corporation in Class 10A-I, denominated in shares, and Equity 21 Rescission or Damage Claims in Class 10A-II, denominated in dollars.”).

22           Under the Plan, PG&E common shareholders are to retain their ownership interest in PG&E, 23 subject to dilution from any New HoldCo Common Stock issued pursuant to the Plan. Plan § 4.13(a).

24 _____
25 <sup>23</sup> The Plan Proponents dispute all of the alleged HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims, which are based 26 on the demonstrably false premise that PG&E somehow concealed the risk that it might ignite and be 27 liable for wildfires (a) while simultaneously, repeatedly, and widely disclosing that risk, and (b) after the 28 Butte fire (2015) and the North Bay fires (2017) actually ignited and were widely attributed to PG&E.
The Plan Proponents reserve all rights with respect to these specious claims, which have yet to survive even a motion to dismiss.

1 Accordingly, if the HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims ultimately are allowed, they must receive a 2 proportionate share of the ownership interest to be retained by PG&E's common shareholders.

3 The question of proportionality—i.e., how much property is to be allocated to holders of Allowed 4 HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims, if any, and how much is to be allocated to PG&E common 5 shareholders—is complicated by the fact that HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims, if allowed, will be 6 denominated in dollars, not shares. One cannot simply combine dollar-denominated claims and interests 7 reflected by a number of common shares to calculate a pro rata distribution from a fixed pool of 8 consideration (here, an ownership interest in PG&E).

9 The Plan addresses this otherwise apples-to-oranges comparison by allocating ownership of 10 PG&E (as diluted) amongst shareholders and holders of Allowed HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims, 11 if any, pursuant to their respective share of PG&E's market capitalization at the last point in time that, 12 according to PERA's own allegations, PG&E's share price was inflated by the alleged fraud.
13 Specifically, holders of Allowed HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims, if any, will receive New 14 HoldCo Common Stock equal to their HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claim Share of the number of 15 shares of common stock outstanding on the Petition Date (526,118,408). Plan § 4.14(a). The HoldCo 16 Rescission or Damage Claim Share is “a percentage equal to (a) the dollar amount of a holder's Allowed 17 HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claim less any cash payments received from an Insurance Policy, divided 18 by (b) $35,905,153,932.” Plan § 1.109. $35,905,153,932 represents PG&E's market capitalization as 19 of the market open on October 12, 2017 (the “Pre-Disclosure Capitalization”).<sup>24</sup>

20 Under this formula, holders of Allowed HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims will receive new 21 common stock equal to a percentage—the HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claim Share—of the stock 22 held by existing common shareholders. As described below, that percentage is based upon and directly 23 tied to the alleged losses of holders of Allowed HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims.

24 Although PERA concedes that “the goal of reconciling distributions between pari passu classes 25 denominated in shares (Class 10A-1) and dollars (Class 10A-II) is appropriate,” PERA Obj. at 11, it

26 _____
27 <sup>24</sup> The market opening price on October 12, 2017, was $69.29, and PG&E had 518,186,664 fully diluted 28 shares outstanding on that date.

1 takes issue with both the denominator and numerator of the HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claim Share.
2 Specifically, PERA asserts that (1) PG&E's market capitalization (the denominator) should be 3 determined as of the Petition Date instead of the date immediately prior to disclosure of PG&E's alleged 4 fraud; and (2) insurance recoveries should not be deducted from the allowed amount of a holder's
5 HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claim (the numerator). PERA also argues that the Plan must account 6 for securities fraud claims against the Utility (a subsidiary of HoldCo, the entity that issued the common 7 shares on which the HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims are premised) even though such claims must 8 receive the exact same treatment as the HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims.

9 (a) The Pre-Disclosure Capitalization Properly Accounts For The Losses
10 Alleged By Holders Of HoldCo Rescission Or Damage Claims

11 The Pre-Disclosure Capitalization is based directly on the allegations made by PERA in its 12 complaint and assumes the truth of those allegations, solely for purposes of providing a fair method to 13 allocate distributions among PG&E's shareholders and holders of Allowed HoldCo Rescission or 14 Damage Claims, if any. In its complaint, PERA alleged that October 12, 2017, was the first date on 15 which the falsity of the alleged misstatements and omissions purportedly giving rise to the HoldCo 16 Rescission or Damage Claims was revealed. As PERA put it, October 12, 2017, was the date of 17 "corrective disclosure and/or materialization of concealed risk." TAC at 96; see TAC ¶ 246 ("it was not 18 until Thursday, October 12, 2017 that the market began to understand that PG&E's safety regulation
19 violations were likely a major cause" of the fires); TAC ¶ 321 ("Defendants' false and misleading
20 statements had the intended effect and caused PG&E securities to trade at artificially inflated levels
21 throughout the Class Period, reaching as high as $71.56 per share on September 11, 2017 – a month
22 before the truth started to emerge on October 12, 2017."); TAC ¶ 328 ("It was not until Thursday, 23 October 12, 2017 that the market began to understand that PG&E's safety regulation violations were 24 likely a proximate cause of the North Bay Fires"); TAC ¶ 330 ("On this news that PG&E would likely 25 bear at least some responsibility for the fires, PG&E's stock dropped $4.65 per share, from a closing 26 price of $69.15 on October 11 to closing price of $64.50 on October 12, or -6.7%, with unusually heavy 27
28

1 trading volume of almost 13 million shares (compared to a Class Period daily average trading volume 2 of 3.5 million).”).

3 As a consequence, according to PERA, anyone who purchased PG&E common stock in the 4 nearly two-and-a-half years of the Class Period before October 12, 2017, did so at an “artificially 5 inflated” price and then realized losses when, on October 12, 2017, the supposed truth was revealed and 6 the stock price declined.<sup>25</sup> The Pre-Disclosure Capitalization represents PG&E’s market capitalization 7 at the last point in time at which its stock price reflected the alleged “artificially inflated” value.

8 The HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claim Share thus calculates a percentage ownership of 9 PG&E based on a combination of an out-of-pocket damages theory (claims for actual realized losses in 10 trading PG&E common stock) and a benefit-of-the-bargain measure approximating each claimant’s 11 reasonable expectancy ownership interest in PG&E had the allegedly false representations actually 12 caused the share price to be inflated (by using the last date when the stock was supposedly fully 13 inflated).<sup>26</sup> Applying the HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claim Share after accounting for insurance 14

15 <sup>25</sup> In an effort to lay claim to larger losses, PERA’s complaint extends the Class Period to November 15, 16 2018, more than a year after the alleged corrective disclosures. This is nonsensical. If, in fact, the 17 supposed “truth” was revealed in whole or in part on October 12, 2017, then any investor purchasing 18 PG&E stock after that date would have – by PERA’s own allegations – bought stock at a price that 19 incorporated information from the corrective disclosures. Neither the federal securities nor bankruptcy 20 laws were intended to provide investment insurance where, as PERA concedes, the market knew the 21 “truth” as of October 12, 2017. See, e.g., Dura Pharm., Inc. v. Broudo, 544 U.S. 336, 347-48 (2005)
22 (“[A]llowing a plaintiff to forgo giving any indication of the economic loss and proximate cause . . .
23 would tend to transform a private securities action into a partial downside insurance policy.”); In re Blue 24 Earth, Inc. Sec. Class Action Litig., No. CV 14-08263-DSF, 2015 WL 12001274, *3 (C.D. Cal. Nov. 3, 25 2015) (“By ensuring that only losses actually attributable to a given misrepresentation are cognizable, 26 the loss causation requirement ensures that the federal securities laws do not become a system of investor 27 insurance that reimburses investors for any decline in the value of their investments.”).

28 <sup>26</sup> This is consistent with the federal securities laws, which limit recovery to each investor’s “actual damages.” 15 U.S.C. § 78bb. Actual damages are an individual’s “out-of-pocket” damages or the difference between the fair value of what was received and the fair value if there had been no fraudulent conduct (the “benefit of the bargain”). See, e.g., Strategic Diversity, Inc. v. Alchemix Corp., 666 F.3d 1197, 1208 (9th Cir. 2012) (“The generally employed ‘out-of-pocket’ or ‘market’ measure is the difference between the fair value of what was received and the fair value of what one would have received had there been no fraudulent conduct.”); In re Sepulveda, No. 8:13-BK-17965-SC, 2017 WL 1505216, *8 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. Apr. 26, 2017) (“The benefit-of-the-bargain measure places a defrauded plaintiff in

1 payments (to avoid a double recovery), the Plan appropriately converts the HoldCo Rescission or 2 Damages Claims into a proportionate share of PG&E equity as of the Petition Date based upon a 3 capitalization that accounts for the alleged damages.

4 (i) PG&E's Petition Date Market Capitalization Is Irrelevant

5 PERA takes issue with the Plan's use of the Pre-Disclosure Capitalization. It argues that "the 6 reference to the corrective disclosures alleged in the TAC is a red herring" because Pre-Disclosure
7 Capitalization is relevant only to quantification of the allowed amount of HoldCo Rescission or Damage 8 Claims and not to the proportionate share of equity that such claims are entitled to receive if allowed.
9 PERA Obj. at 12.

10 In so arguing, PERA ignores the function of subordination under section 510(b) and the nature 11 of its claims. Under section 510(b), the HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims "ha[ve] the same priority 12 as common stock." As noted above, if they are liquidated and allowed, those claims will be denominated 13 in dollars instead of shares and cannot be placed in the same class as the existing shares of PG&E 14 common stock. Accordingly, the Plan must create a mechanism to provide the claims with treatment 15 that is equivalent or similar to the treatment of the common shares—namely, retention of a percentage 16 ownership of PG&E after dilution from the new equity interests issued pursuant to the Plan. In re Kaiser
17 Group Intern., 326 B.R. 265, 268 (D. Del. 2005) (section 510(b) "ensure[s] that [subordinated claimants] 18 receive compensation for their claim on the same basis as the claimants who are on the level to which 19 their claim is subordinated"); see, e.g., In re Superior Offshore Int'l, 591 F.3d 350, 352-53 (5th Cir.
20 2009) (affirming confirmation of plan providing for subordinated claims and common shares to "share 21 any surplus proceeds pro rata").

22 That is exactly what the Plan does: the holder of an Allowed HoldCo Rescission or Damage
23 Claim will receive an amount of New HoldCo Common Stock equal to its share of PG&E's common 24 stock outstanding as of the Petition Date based upon the percentage of PG&E's market capitalization at 25 the time the stock price incorporated the alleged inflation. This is precisely how the Bankruptcy Code

26 _____
27 in value between what he actually received and what he was fraudulently led to believe he would 28 receive.") (quotations omitted).

1 mandates subordinated equity securities to be treated. See, e.g., In re Orange Country Nursery, Inc., 2 No. ED CV 18-232-DMG, 2019 WL 3973869, *5 (C.D. Cal. Aug. 21, 2019) (affirming confirmation of 3 plan that provided for issuance of a proportionate amount of equity to “dilute the relative ownership 4 interests of other equity holders to account for the value of [the subordinated] claim”); Kaiser, 326 B.R.
5 at 268 (same); In re American Solar King Corp., 90 B.R. 808, 824 (Bankr. W.D. Tex. 1988) (same).

6 (ii) The Plan Is Consistent With Section 502(b) Of The Bankruptcy Code.

7 PERA’s assertion that section 502(b) of the Bankruptcy Code somehow compels a different 8 result reveals a fundamental misunderstanding of the Bankruptcy Code’s claim allowance and 9 subordination provisions. Section 502(b) provides for the Court to “determine the amount” of a claim 10 as of the Petition Date and “allow such claim in such amount.” 11 U.S.C. § 502(b) (emphasis added).
11 Pursuant to section 502(b), the amount of the HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims will be determined 12 as of the Petition Date if and when those Claims are adjudicated and allowed.

13 At issue here is how such Claims, if they become allowed, are treated under the Plan. As 14 established above, section 510(b) mandates that the Claims – having been determined and allowed as of 15 the Petition Date – be subordinated to the level of common stock. The only logical way to effectuate 16 that subordination is by calculating the proportionate share of PG&E’s market capitalization that 17 includes the damages alleged by PERA – i.e., by determining the proportion of allegedly “inflated” 18 capitalization (the source of the alleged damages) attributable to the entities who claim to have been 19 damaged. Any other methodology, including one based upon market capitalization as of the Petition 20 Date, would massively overweight the HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims by including the alleged 21 losses in the numerator (the claim amount) but not the denominator (the capitalization) used to determine 22 proportionate ownership.

23 The two cases cited by PERA do not support its argument. One involved determination of a 24 secured claim and had nothing to do with section 510(b). In re Paigah, No. 09-19804, 2010 WL 25 4625861 (Bankr. S.D. Cal. Nov. 4, 2010). The other was withdrawn on reconsideration and then 26 reversed on appeal. In re Orange County Nursery, Inc., 479 B.R. 863 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012),

1 appellate opinion in that case, cited above, confirms that section 510(b) operates to “dilute the relative 2 ownership interests of other equity holders to account for the value of [the subordinated] claim.” 2019

4 (b) A Deduction For Insurance Is Necessary To Avoid Double Recovery
5 And Consistent With Applicable Bankruptcy And Securities Law

6 Under the Plan, the numerator of the HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claim Share for a particular 7 claimant is reduced by “any cash payments received from an Insurance Policy.” Plan § 1.109. This is 8 done to put all claimants on a level playing field and ensure that no claimant receives more than its 9 appropriate proportionate recovery.

10 In this regard, the Plan is fully consistent with the Fifth Circuit’s decision in Superior Offshore, 11 a case that is directly on point. In Superior Offshore, the debtor proposed a plan that, as here, had one 12 class of securities fraud claimants subordinated to the level of common shareholders (Class 7) and one 13 class of common shareholders (Class 8). 591 F.3d at 352. The plan provided for the classes to “share 14 any surplus proceeds pro rata,” but required each subordinated fraud claimant to “first look to the 15 proceeds of the Debtor’s available insurance policies for satisfaction of its Claim to the extent that such 16 Claim is covered by insurance.” Id. at 353 n.3. After receipt of such insurance proceeds, “[a]ny 17 remaining unpaid Allowed Class 7 Subordinated Securities Claim shall receive a Pro-Rata share” of the 18 assets available for distribution. Id. The bankruptcy court confirmed the plan and the Fifth Circuit

19
20 21 <sup>27</sup> The convoluted facts of Orange County Nursery, laid out in at least nine published opinions issued 22 over the course of nine years (with an appeal now pending before the Ninth Circuit), are not remotely 23 analogous to those in this case. In that case, a minority shareholder of a closely held corporation had 24 petitioned for dissolution and won an award equal to the value of its shares. At the behest of the majority 25 shareholder, the debtor filed for bankruptcy before paying the minority shareholder and argued that the 26 dissolution award should be disregarded because the minority shareholder retained its minority interest.
27 After a tortuous history of appeals and reversals, the confirmed plan ultimately provided for the minority 28 shareholder to have a subordinated claim corresponding to the value of its equity interest as of the date of dissolution, and for such claim to share proportionally in the value of the debtor as of confirmation.
2019 WL 3973869, *1-3. In contrast, holders of HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims have no underlying equity interest to be valued. Rather, the function of the Plan is to convert the damages asserted by those holders into a proportionate share of PG&E’s overall equity ownership on a basis that treats existing shareholders and subordinated claimants fairly and ratably.

1 affirmed. Id. at 353. The Plan’s deduction for “cash payments received from an Insurance Policy” is 2 substantively identical to that approved by the Fifth Circuit.

3 Yet, completely ignoring Superior Offshore, PERA argues that this so-called “Insurance Offset” 4 is inconsistent with bankruptcy and securities law. PERA Obj. at 13-15. PERA is wrong on both 5 accounts.

6 (i) The Insurance Offset Is Consistent With Bankruptcy Law.

7 PERA first asserts that “[t]he Insurance Offset violates the well-settled rule that a creditor is 8 entitled to assert the full amount of its claim against a debtor, without reduction for amounts received 9 from other, non-debtor sources.” PERA Obj. at 14. The “rule” cited by PERA is neither “well-settled” 10 nor applicable on the facts of this case.

11 PERA’s argument flows from the “rarely cited” Supreme Court decision in Ivanhoe v. Bldg. and 12 Loan Association, 295 U.S. 243 (1935). Nuveen Mun. Trust ex rel. Nuveen High Yield Mun. Bond Fund
13 v. WithumSmith Brown, P.C., 692 F.3d 283, 295-96 (3d Cir. 2012). Ivanhoe and the other cases cited 14 by PERA involve circumstances in which the “non-debtor sources” at issue were third party collateral 15 or other assets not included as property of the bankruptcy estate. See Ivanhoe, 295 U.S. at 245 (proceeds 16 from real estate that secured a bond issued by the debtor did not impact creditor’s ability to assert claim 17 for the full amount of the bond in a bankruptcy case); In re Del Biaggio, 496 B.R. 600, 605 (Bankr. N.D.
18 Cal. 2012) (payments received from debtor’s co-obligors did not reduce allowed amount of creditor’s 19 claim).

20 None of the authority cited by PERA involved a reduction in the claim to account for payments 21 from a debtor’s insurance policies. With good reason. The policies at issue here largely provide shared
22 coverage to PG&E and the individual director and officers defendants whom PERA has sued.<sup>28</sup>

23 <sup>28</sup> The D&O Liability Insurance Policies that the Debtors believe are applicable to this issue provide 24 shared coverage to the Debtors and their directors and officers of up to $400 million (in excess of retained 25 limits that total $15 million). See Confirmation Declaration n.3. In addition to the applicable D&O 26 Liability Insurance Policies, the Debtors maintain coverage dedicated exclusively to the Debtors’ 27 directors and officers, which is referred to as Side A “DIC” (difference in condition) coverage, and which 28 is payable under each tower of the applicable D&O Liability Insurance Policies if and only all of the shared coverage available under the respective tower is first exhausted and there is a non-indemnified loss. See id.

1 Payments from those shared coverage policies reduce proceeds otherwise available to the bankruptcy 2 estate. “[F]aced with the typical situation in which a debtor corporation’s liability policies provide the 3 debtor and thus the estate with direct coverage against third party claims, virtually every court to have 4 considered the issue has concluded that the policies and clearly the proceeds of those policies are part 5 of debtor’s bankruptcy estate, irrespective of whether those policies also provide liability coverage for 6 debtor’s directors and officers.” In re Vitek, Inc., 51 F.3d 530, 534, n.17 (5th Cir. 1995) (emphasis
7 added); In re Downey Financial Corp., 428 B.R. 595, 604 (Bankr. D. Del. 2010) (“when there is coverage 8 for both the directors and officers and the debtor, the proceeds will be property of the estate if depletion 9 of the proceeds would have an adverse effect on the estate to the extent the policy actually protects the 10 estate’s other assets from diminution) (quotation omitted); In re M.F. Global Holdings Ltd., 515 B.R.
11 193, 203 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2014) (same).

12 This near unanimous authority includes the Ninth Circuit. See In re Minoco Group of Cos., Ltd., 13 799 F.2d 517, 519 (9th Cir.1986) (liability policies under which the debtor has or shares a right to 14 coverage are “property of the estate” because “the debtor’s estate is worth more with them than without 15 them” and “we see no significant distinction between a liability policy that insures the debtor against 16 claims by consumers and one that insures the debtor against claims by officers and directors”); see also 17 In re Circle K Corp., 121 B.R. 257, 261 (Bankr. D. Ariz. 1990) (enjoining securities fraud action on 18 basis that it would “affect[] debtor’s property interest” in shared coverage available under director and 19 officer insurance policies, which the court deemed a “valuable estate asset”).

20 Given that this shared insurance is property of the estate, the Plan’s Insurance Offset is 21 appropriate and necessary because any payment from the policies is a payment of assets of the 22 bankruptcy estate. Without a deduction for insurance payments actually received, any holder of a 23 HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claim who recovered from the insurance impermissibly would be paid 24 twice by the estate and receive a greater recovery than common shareholders with the same priority. See 25 e.g., Superior Offshore, 591 F.3d at 353-54 (deducting “proceeds of the Debtor’s available insurance 26 policies” from subordinated securities fraud claim before determining pro rata share of assets available 27 for distribution to subordinated claims and shareholders); In re Sacred Heart Hospital of Norristown,

1 182 B.R. 413, 421 (Bankr. E.D. Pa. 1995) (claim of creditor who receives payment from debtor’s 2 insurance “would have to be reduced dollar for dollar by the amount of insurance proceeds received”).

3 (ii) *The Insurance Offset Is Consistent With Securities Law.

4 PERA also argues that the Insurance Offset is inconsistent with the liability apportionment
5 provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act (“PSLRA”). PERA Obj. at 15. This assertion 6 rests on the false premise that a dollar-for-dollar reduction to account for payments actually made to a 7 claimant from an insurance policy somehow amounts to a determination of proportionate liability
8 amongst PG&E and the other defendants who have been sued by PERA. That’s nonsense. The Plan 9 simply reduces the allowed claim amount to account for insurance proceeds actually received from 10 insurance policies owned by the bankruptcy estate.

11 PERA cites nothing to establish that this is not perfectly appropriate. Indeed, the PSLRA does 12 not speak to sources of recovery at all, and the federal securities laws explicitly prohibit recovery in 13 excess of actual losses whether a plaintiff recovers through one or multiple actions. 15 U.S.C. § 78bb(a) 14 (“No person permitted to maintain a suit for damages under the provisions of this chapter shall recover, 15 through satisfaction of judgment in 1 or more actions, a total amount in excess of the actual damages to 16 that person on account of the act complained of.”). As such, nothing in the PSLRA or other securities 17 law conflicts with governing bankruptcy law that requires the Court to deduct proceeds received from a 18 debtor’s insurance policy from the allowed amount of a claim asserted against the debtor before 19 determining a claimant’s pro rata distribution under a plan of reorganization.

20 (c) *The Plan Need Not “Account For” Bogus Claims Filed Against The 21 Wrong Debtor.

22 Finally, PERA claims that “thousands” of purported holders of HoldCo Rescission or Damage 23 Claims filed claims not only against PG&E Corporation – the entity that issued the common stock on 24 which such claims are premised – but also against the Utility – a wholly owned subsidiary that did not 25 issue common stock to the claimants. PERA Obj. at 16. PERA then argues that the Plan violates 26 sections 1122 and 1123(a)(1) and (3) of the Bankruptcy Code because it classifies and treats only the 27 HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims and not the claims misfiled against the Utility.
28

1 This is makeweight. PERA “acknowledge[s] that Ninth Circuit law treats claims against one 2 debtor arising from purchases of the common stock of an affiliated debtor as pari passu with the common 3 stock to which they relate (here, HoldCo common stock) and not with the common stock of the entity
4 against which the claims are asserted.” PERA Obj. at 16 (citing In re Del Biaggio, 834 F.3d 1003, 1014-
5 15 (9th Cir. 2016)) (emphasis added). In other words, the claims asserted by PERA and other securities
6 fraud claimants must receive the exact same treatment whether asserted against PG&E Corporation 7 (HoldCo) or its subsidiary (the Utility). The Plan provides that treatment. Nothing more is required.

8 2. The Plan Does Not Discriminate Unfairly Against HoldCo Rescission Or 9 Damage Claims

10 PERA argues that the Plan violates section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code because it 11 discriminates unfairly against HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims. PERA Obj. at 17-18. PERA 12 alleges three forms of “discrimination.”

13 First, PERA asserts that the HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claim Share is a form of 14 discrimination because it does not use PG&E market capitalization as of the Petition Date. Id. As shown 15 above, use of the Pre-Disclosure Capitalization is appropriate and not discriminatory. To the contrary, 16 using Petition Date capitalization would be discriminatory against existing shareholders, who would see 17 their interests diluted by far more than the proportionate ownership share properly attributable to the 18 HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims if they are allowed.

19 Second, PERA argues that the Insurance Offset is discriminatory. Id. at 18. This too is wrong 20 for the reasons stated above. Here again, permitting holders of HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims 21 to recover from insurance that is an asset of the bankruptcy estate without deduction from the allowed 22 amounts of such claims would unfairly discriminate against current shareholders by improperly diluting 23 their interests.

24 Third, PERA argues that the Plan discriminates against holders of HoldCo Rescission or Damage 25 Claims by denying them the opportunity to purchase shares through a Rights Offering “potentially” 26 given to current shareholders. Id. The Disclosure Statement makes clear that a Rights Offering is just 27 one of several potential ways that the Debtors may raise equity capital to finance the Plan. Disclosure 28

1 Statement at 31-32. If a Rights Offering is conducted and offered to current shareholders, the offering 2 would be made on account of the shareholders' interests in PG&E not any claim against PG&E. Holders 3 of HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims do not have interests in PG&E; they merely hold claims that 4 "have the same priority as" those interests by operation of section 510(b) of the Bankruptcy Code. The 5 potential to participate in a Rights Offering is not unfairly discriminatory as to those subordinated 6 claims, which are not equity interests.

7 The Ninth Circuit's decision in Acequia is analogous. There, the proposed plan treated two 8 shareholders differently, giving one but not the other the right to manage the reorganized debtor. See,
9 e.g., In re Acequia, Inc., 787 F.2d 1352, 1356-57 (9th Cir. 1986). The Ninth Circuit held that this was 10 not unfair discrimination because the management rights were "separate from" rights arising from those 11 associated with share ownership. Id. at 1363-64; see also, e.g., In re Peabody Energy Corp., 933 F.3d 12 918, 925 (8th Cir. 2019) ("a reorganization plan may treat one set of claim holders more favorably than 13 another so long as the treatment is not for the claim but for distinct, legitimate rights or contributions 14 from the favored group separate from the claim") (plan properly provided rights to purchase stock in 15 reorganized debtor to some but not all creditors where "[t]he participating creditors were investors who 16 promised to support the plan, buy preferred stock that did not sell in the Private Placement, and backstop 17 the Rights Offering").

18 Accordingly, the Plan does not unfairly discriminate as to Class 10A-II, the provisions of section 19 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code are satisfied, and the PERA Objection should be overruled.

20 The Plan Proponents have made every effort to appropriately address the legitimate and relevant 21 concerns raised by the various parties in interest in these Chapter 11 Cases. For the reasons stated above 22 and in the Objection Summary Chart, the Plan Proponents believe that the Plan complies with and 23 satisfies all of the requirements of section 1129 of the Bankruptcy Code and, as such, the remaining 24 Objections should be overruled and the Plan should be confirmed.

25 V. CAUSE EXISTS TO WAIVE STAY OF PROPOSED CONFIRMATION ORDER

26 Bankruptcy Rule 3020(e) provides that: "[a]n order confirming a plan is stayed until the 27 expiration of 14 days after the entry of the order, unless the court orders otherwise." Fed. R. Bankr. P.
28

1 3020(e). The Debtors request that the Bankruptcy Court direct that the Confirmation Order be effective
2 immediately upon its entry, notwithstanding the 14-day stay imposed by operation of Bankruptcy Rule 3 3020(e).

4 Under the circumstances and to conserve estate resources and fees, it is appropriate for the 5 Bankruptcy Court to exercise its discretion to order that Bankruptcy Rule 3020(e) is not applicable and 6 permit the Debtors to consummate the Plan and commence its implementation without delay after the 7 entry of the Confirmation Order. Such relief is in the best interests of the Debtors' estates and all parties 8 in interest and will serve to expedite distributions to Fire Victims.

9 VI. CONCLUSION

10 The Plan complies with and satisfies all of the requirements of section 1129 and the other 11 applicable sections of the Bankruptcy Code. As such, the Objections should be overruled and the Plan 12 should be confirmed.
